LIVELY WRANGLE

Over a Drunk Case in Police Court Today

Lawyer and Officers Got Into a Wrangle—Case Put Over—Man Fined for Running Motor Cycle Without a License

The continued case of James A. Riley, charged with drunkenness, was heard in police court before Judge Hadley this morning and Lawyer Donahue, who appeared for the defendant, gave the witnesses for the government a rigid cross-examination and at times made things look ridiculous.

Patrolman D. Geroux testified that he had been called to the home of the defendant in Manchester street about 7:30 o'clock on the night in question. He said that when he entered the house he asked Riley, who was the trouble was and Riley said it was only a family affair and none of his business. With that Riley backed into the pantry and seized a tea pot in his right hand and a water pitcher in his left, threatened to knock the officer's head off.

Wagon Officer Hickson testified that Riley smelled strongly of liquor and was staggering. His speech was incoherent and the man's conversation was uncomprehensible. On cross-examination witness said he had smelled liquor off a sober man on many occasions. He said that Riley kept talking continuously about $1000 and his family. He seemed to be offended with the officer who arrested him and called the officer a vile man. There was some blood on Riley, but he did not know where the blood came from.

The court interrupted Lawyer Donahue in his examination of witness relative to the blood and cuts on Riley, stating that the only complaint was drunkenness. Mr. Donahue said he intended to show that Riley had been clubbed by Officer Geroux and when he reached the station he was thrown into a cell.

Keener Whittaker, who booked Riley on the night of the arrest, testified that the man was drunk when he reached the station. Witness said he had known Riley for 28 years and after the latter had been placed in the cell he had talked with him (Riley) relative to the blood and the marks on his face.

Riley said he had received the cuts as a result of resisting arrest. Judge Hadley at this point suggested that the arresting officer should have taken the names of the people in the house at the time of the arrest and have them present today to testify.

The court, Lawyer Donahue and Deputy Welch held a conference and it was decided to postpone the case until July 3.

OPERATING MOTOR CYCLE. Mark F. Cross pleaded guilty to operating a motor cycle without being licensed to do so and was fined $10.

Inspector Walsh, who made the arrest, said that he arrested Cross in Moody street last Tuesday night. At the time of arrest Cross was operating a double cylinder Curtis motor-cycle and said that he was not registered, neither had he been registered last year.

Cross pleaded ignorance of the law when the court informed him that the maximum penalty for the first offense was $25 and $50 for the second.

The court was disposed to be lenient and did not impose the maximum fine.

YOUNG INTERPRETER. One of the youngest persons who ever appeared in police court in the capacity of an interpreter was there this morning in the person of an eleven-year-old Polish girl. The girl was called to interpret in the case of Frank Caban, charged with drunkenness.

Mr. Caban said that he was here to work and support himself, while her husband refused to work, get drunk and threatened her on different occasions.

The court sentenced Caban to the house of correction for four months, suspended sentence and placed the man in the hands of the probation officer.

SENT TO SHERBORN. Elizabeth Hannan was arrested in Middle street last night. The arresting officer did not give Elizabeth a very good card and the court decided that the woman should be sent to Sherborn.

PLACED ON FILE. Dennis Shea was in court yesterday morning and released. He was arrested again yesterday and appeared in the dock this morning. Inasmuch as Shea is aged and in need of a home he is sent to the city farm and the case placed on file.

LIQUOR CASE. Mary A. Savage, charged with illegally keeping liquor, was placed on trial, but owing to the woman's affliction the court was inclined to be lenient and continued the case till July 31, and at that time if it is shown that the woman has not continued the sale of liquor the case will be filed.

The woman, who has but one finger, she having lost all the fingers of one hand and all but one of the other, keeps a variety store in South street and recently the liquor inspectors paid a visit to the store and seized a quantity of liquor.

LARCENY CHARGED. Michel Lehouef pleaded guilty to a complaint charging him with the larceny of $5 from his step-father, Frederick Jeffrey. He was sentenced to the Massachusetts reformatory, appealed and was held under $300 bonds for the superior court.

The case of Michael J. Quinn, charged with assaulting Martin Calin, was continued till June 23.

THE DRUNKS. John Shea, Samuel Chouinard, Patrick H. Fallon and Bernard Riley, second offenders, were fined $6 each.

CASES CONTINUED. The cases of Dennis Maher and Manuel Peter, charged with drunkenness and disturbing the peace, were continued till Tuesday morning.

Edward Donnelly, a third offender, was sentenced to three months in jail. Three first offenders were fined $2.

THE AYER ESTATE. A report has reached the Sun office to the effect that the Obituary Order had secured an option on the Fred Ayer estate, corner of Pawtucket and School streets, but Rev. Fr. Campau, O. M. I., pastor of St. Joseph's church, knows nothing of any such transaction. "Eventually," he said, "we must build a new college, but such an estate as that mentioned is so far beyond our financial resources that I do not believe it has been considered for such a purpose."

FUNERALS. CONSIDINE. The funeral of Anthony Considine took place this morning from his home at 8:15 and at 9 o'clock requiem mass was sung by Rev. Timothy P. Callahan. The choir, under the direction of Michael J. Johnson, rendered the Vatican edition of the Missa Pro Defunctis. At the offertory "Domine Jesu Christi" was sung. After mass "In Paradisum" was sung and as the remains were being borne from the church the choir rendered "Ego Sum, Benedicite." The bearers were Messrs. Cornelius Howe, Patrick Rafferty, Peter Sughrie, Michael Sughrie, Patrick Flavin and Patrick Qualey. The interment was in the Catholic cemetery. Rev. Fr. Callahan officiating at the grave. The interment was in charge of C. H. Molloy & Sons.

MORAN. The funeral of Bartholomew Moran took place this morning from his late home, 34 Chipewa street, at 8:20 o'clock. High mass of requiem was sung at the Sacred Heart church at 9 o'clock. Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I., officiating. The choir, under the direction of Mrs. Adelaide Muldoon, sang the Gregorian mass. At the offertory Mrs. Muldoon sang "Pie Jesu," and at the conclusion of mass the sanctuary choir sang "De Profundis." Among the many beautiful floral tributes were: Pillow. Inscribed "Father," from family; standing cross on base inscribed "Goodbye, Grandpa," grandchildren of deceased; spray, Mr. and Mrs. D. McKinnon and family; ivy wreath and roses, Monahan family; and several bouquets from other friends. The bearers were James Connors, Thomas Tully, Patrick Moore, John O'Hearn, Edward Lynch, and Edward Flynn. Interment was in the Catholic cemetery. Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I., read the committal prayers. Undertaker P. H. Savage in charge.

KITSON. The funeral of Miss Charlotte P. Kitson took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from her late home, 25 Fairmount street. The services were attended by a large number of those who have been the friends and associates of Miss Kitson. The services were conducted by the Rev. Dr. George E. Martin, pastor of Kirk Street Congregational church, of which Miss Kitson was a member. A brief form of service was used, the whole being in keeping with Miss Kitson's simplicity of character and avoidance of ostentation. Dr. Martin made no address, simply offering prayer and reading selections from the scriptures, chosen for their aptness in fitting Miss Kitson's character. He also read two poems by Mrs. Browning, "The Sleep" and "My Kate," both being particularly applicable to Miss Kitson. There was a great profusion of beautiful flowers. The bearers were Messrs. Jacob Rogers, Haven C. Farham, Walter Ceburn, Fred C. Church, William H. Spaulding and B. F. Putnam of Brookline. The arrangements were under the direction of Mr. A. G. Cunnock and the burial was in the family lot in the Lowell cemetery, where Dr. Martin read a brief committal service. Undertakers J. B. Currier Co. had charge.

The following Lowell people are booked through Murphy's ticket agency to sail from Boston today on the White star line steamer "Cymric" for a visit to Europe: Mrs. George N. Scott, Mary Connelly, Benjamin Hirst, Mr. and Mrs. John Brown, Alexander and Janet Brown, William Sanderson, Master William Sanderson, Miss Mary Bennett, Mrs. Margaret Coleman, John McDonough, and Mrs. Catherine Ryan.

OVERCOME BY HEAT

Fifty Soldiers Succumbed in Five Mile March

NEW YORK, June 20.—Worn out by the exertion of a week of real soldier life in camp more than half a hundred men of the Ninth regiment, N. Y. N. G., succumbed completely to heat on a five mile march from Fort Wadsworth today. When they reached New York from Staten Island by ferry nearly half a dozen men were rushed to hospitals for treatment. Fifty more so utterly exhausted that they could scarcely stand threw themselves down on the grass of Battery park and refused even to attempt to march farther. There they were treated by surgeons from several hospitals and by sympathetic citizens who procured cooling drinks and bits of ice for them from nearby drug stores.

BRITISH CRUISER

Blamed for Collision With the St. Paul

LONDON, June 20.—The admiralty court has decided that the British cruiser Gladiolus, alone in to blame for the collision with the liner St. Paul off the Isle of Wight last April in a snow storm. As a result over a score of the crew of the Gladiolus lost their lives, the cruiser had to be beached and the liner laid up for extensive repairs. Sir John Gorell Barnes in delivering his judgment, said he had arranged to decide the matter purely as between ship and ship apart from any individual actions by persons on board the Gladiolus. The court concluded that the weather was sufficiently clear for the St. Paul to proceed as she had done.

THE JOCKEY CLUB

To Test the New Anti-Betting Measures

NEW YORK, June 20.—The Coney Island Jockey club is determined to secure a judicial interpretation of the new anti-betting measures. This was made apparent today when counsel for the Jockey club obtained from Justice Blischoff in the supreme court a writ of habeas corpus directing the sheriff of Kings county to produce before Justice Blischoff, Melville Collins, who was arrested at the Sheephead Bay course yesterday charged with accepting a wager. Just before the issuance of the writ, Assistant Dist. Atty. Elder of Kings county had expressed the opinion that there was a clear case against Collins. When Collins was produced in compliance with the writ of habeas corpus the hearing was set down for next Monday. It is expected that the machinery in the real test case will be formally set in motion at that time.

There was much discussion today against the restraining order issued by Justice Blischoff yesterday. Mr. Elder and Deputy Police Commissioner Baker both declared that the injunction merely prevented the police from becoming trespassers and interfering with patrons of the race tracks who are doing no wrong, but does not interfere with them in breaking up groups in which they have good reason to believe efforts are being made to consummate bets on the races.

Police Commissioner Bingham said: "If all the lawyers and judges were killed off I would enforce the law. Then we would get some justice."

James R. Keene today shipped twenty of his yearling thoroughbreds to England on the Atlantic transport steamer Mesaba.

It was learned today that Gov. Hughes has special agents present at the race course every afternoon observing the police method of dealing with offenders against the anti-betting laws. These agents are said to report to the governor personally by telephone each evening.

It became known today that acting District Attorney Elder of Kings county was summoned before a grand jury in that county twice this week. This led to the circulation of a report that the jury was contemplating an enquiry into the conduct of the various race tracks in that county. This includes Gravesend, Sheephead Bay and Brighton beach. Mr. Elder would neither deny nor confirm the report.

THE WAR DEPT.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—John S. Schofield, chief clerk of the war department, is head of the military establishment of the government today in the absence of Secretary Taft and Assistant Secretary Oliver. Luke Wright will be in Washington several days before taking office in order to confer with Mr. Taft regarding pending matters.

Three men are busy today in Secretary Taft's office answering the great mass of congratulatory despatches which continue to arrive. Among the despatches made public today was the following from Archbishop Ireland at St. Paul: "Warmest and most sincere congratulatory work on carrying a number of workmen was overturned at a switch below here today and one Italian, name unknown, was crushed to death and another laborer injured. It is thought there was an obstruction from the track."

UNFIT FOR WORK

Old Horse is Enjoying Pasture Life

There's an old horse enjoying pasture life in Chelmsford today that would be struggling with heavy loads but for the police and Agent Richardson of the Humane society.

Yesterday while Agent Richardson was engaged in the juvenile session of the police court somebody telephoned that a horse unfit for work was being abused in Chelmsford street.

Mr. Richardson couldn't get away just at that time and Inspector Lammie volunteered his services. The inspector went out Chelmsford street and at Plain street he caught up with the horse in question.

The poor old horse was about all in. It was evident that he was poorly nourished and thoroughly neglected. He was not inflected with blemishes, however, and the driver, after the arrival on the scene of Agent Richardson, was allowed to take the horse home on condition that he would turn him out to pasture and feed him grain while in pasture.

At least three women have been brought from France to Chicago and are being held in the city.

DRAW TENDER

HAD TO STRUGGLE FOR HIS LIFE IN SWIFT CURRENT

BOSTON, June 19.—Draw Tender Edward J. Brougham, at the Broadway extension bridge had a struggle for life in the swift current of the upper harbor today when he attempted to rescue six-year-old Thomas Leonard, whose body was swept away by the stream. Brougham was taken to the city hospital unconscious but he recovered enough to be removed to his home. The boy's body has not been recovered. The Leonard boy went into the water waist deep and knowing that he could not swim he attempted to lay on his back in the water and float. The current which swung out swiftly from under the bridge took the boy in its grasp and bore him out into the channel. Brougham heard the cries, dove from the bridge and swam to the side of the drowning boy. Frantic with fear, Leonard grasped Brougham's head as the draw tender swam up to him. Both disappeared below the surface of the water. Breathless and choking Brougham came to the surface alone. Luckily two men who were working near the bridge saw Brougham's predicament and had cut towards him in a boat. They succeeded in drawing him from the water alive but unconscious.

"JIMMIE" GRAY DEFEATED HUGH FERGUSON IN 100 YARDS RACE.

For some time past the respective sprinting abilities of Proprietor Hugh Ferguson of the Rockingham hotel, Salem, N. H., and James Gray, the well-known basketball manager, have been under discussion.

Mr. Ferguson, who will be remembered as a former proprietor of the St. Charles hotel, this city, met Mr. Gray with a party of Lowell friends and after a heated argument both were matched for $50 a side. As a deposit to ensure their appearance $20 was posted by each man almost right off the reel. The distance agreed upon was 100 yards. Wednesday last was the day assigned for the big sprint and grounds near the Rockingham hotel were chosen as the speedway. Only a few personal friends of the contestants were present at the race. Mr. Michael Driscoll, of Lowell, was starter, and Richard Conway, the old time ball tosser, of Lowell acted as judge.

For fifty yards the race was a pretty one with Gray in the lead. The "belly" of the hotel man then showed in bad shape and he began to weaken, while Gray sprinted forward with ground speed and won out by nearly twenty-five yards. The Lowellian is now receiving congratulations on his victory and is called the champion sprinter in the light heavyweight class.

SECRETARY TAFT HAD A LONG CONFERENCE WITH PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Usually an early riser, Secretary Taft was a little late in taking up the business of the day and it was after 9 o'clock this morning that he came down to breakfast. The principal lower rooms of the K street residence of the secretary were still filled with magnificent bunches of cut flowers and telegrams of congratulation were piled high on a sideboard.

The fatigues and excitement of last night apparently made little impression on Mrs. Taft and other members of the secretary's family and even before the usual breakfast hour all of them were down stairs and deeply engrossed in the morning newspapers, every one displaying more or less pleasing likenesses of the war secretary and candidate on the first page.

A sign of the change that has taken place in the official status of Secretary Taft was the appearance of a blue-coated policeman at an early hour who took up station at the curb directly in front of the Taft residence, where he or one of his mates will remain constantly on duty day and night whenever the candidate is in Washington.

When the secretary descended from his bedroom this morning and entered the drawing room he found his first caller to be the person of Lieut. Gen. Henry C. Corbin, not only known to the secretary, but also known to the secretary in his capacity as the governor of the Philippines, a warm personal friend and he extended his congratulations and they were gratefully received.

A telegram received over night from a member of his family in the west terminated Secretary Taft to leave Washington this afternoon for Cincinnati. He expects to take the three o'clock train and will leave that city in time to reach New Haven Monday to participate in the reunion of his class of 1883.

Secretary Taft reached the White House at 10:20 o'clock this morning and at once went into the executive offices and conferred with the president.

NEW YORK, June 20.—For the first time in the history of Christian Science a patient who had trusted himself to the care of a "healer" yesterday received a verdict for damages on the ground of improper treatment.

The healer in this instance was Julius Benjamin, the patient was Solomon Ralster and the verdict was for $6000 for the loss of a leg.

Ralster's contention was that the healer had represented himself as a regular practitioner and that he had prescribed medicines, thus bringing himself within the law.

Benjamin declared in his own defense that he had not been called into the case until physicians had told the patient that amputation of his leg was necessary.

Ralster, according to the statement of Benjamin, was averse to parting with the leg, so he took the treatment, which he explained was exactly according to the teachings of Mrs. Eddy.

He had informed his patient, he said, that if he desired a cure he would have to believe in God and in the efficacy of prayer. He ascribed the loss of the leg to Ralster's lack of faith.

After Benjamin had failed to heal his leg Ralster went to a hospital, where his leg was amputated, involving an alleged loss to him of $25,000.

LOST HIS JOB FOR BEING TOO ACTIVE IN POLITICS.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—For "pernicious political activity" President Roosevelt has removed Postmaster Sherman C. Denham of Clarksville, W. Va. For some time Denham has been an opponent of Representative Hubbard, who represents the district in which Clarksville is situated. The postmaster's removal started out after Denham's reply and convinced the president that Denham was neglecting his office to participate in politics. This the president thought inadvisable.

PHILIPPINE ASSEMBLY Goes on Record

MANILA, June 19.—The Philippine assembly today on the eve of adjournment declared by a vote of 57 to 13 that independence was the aspiration of the Filipino people and that they were ready for immediate independence.

Speaker Camacho, in addressing the house formally at the close of the session, brought up the question. He said it was his aspiration to have independence. The people want it and they are ready to receive it. The progressive party leaders demanded separate vote on the question, their spokesman declaring that the people were not ready for immediate independence. All wanted independence, he said, some day but the time was not ripe for it.

Mr. Thomas R. B. Haverhill, visiting in the city, is the second largest in the state in point of salary, paying $12,000 per annum.

Won the Game for Fall River Yesterday

FALL RIVER, June 20.—Fall River put it over Lowell yesterday, 4 to 2, by bunching hits off Warner in the third inning. The visitors filled the bases in the ninth, but could secure only one run. Gilroy's batting and Kane's fielding were features. The score:

Job on their western trip.

Fall River has a new outfielder by the name of Donovan. He comes from Cleveland.

The National commission has ruled that the Milwaukee club must assume First Baseman Jack Flynn's 1908 contract, which he entered into with the Toronto club at a salary of $250 a month, but that the salary is not to commence until the player reports.

Lynn, during dull times and under no-license, is proving a better town than when business was good and wet goods were sold. From May's official report of the club, 560 more people attended that month than in May last season. Week day games thus far have been more largely attended than ever before.

The great trouble with the home team is that they develop a yellow streak when the game is going against them. Instead of getting for the game every minute to the last, they appear to take it for granted that they will be defeated unless they have a safe lead of several runs. This is certainly not the true baseball spirit that lands a team at the top—Fall River News.

Lawrence will play Lowell a double header at Washington park, this city, next Monday afternoon. It being the second day of the season, the two teams this season. The first two games that Lawrence had scheduled to play with Lowell in Lowell were postponed on account of rain. One of these games was played off at Lowell last week Friday, while the other will be played off next Monday.

Jesse Burkett of the Worcester team, who has already won two pennants in the New England league, is surely out for another this year. Burkett has succeeded in landing in first place the two seasons that he has been in the league, which is, indeed, a great showing and shows that the manager is playing baseball from start to finish. He knows every department of the game, can play as well as he can tell others how to play, and gets the best out of his men. The other day he was asked if he was out for the pennant again this year. He said: "We have a pretty fair team. We will do our best to keep every other team from winning the pennant." That is saying enough.

During the past few weeks Worcester has made a great spurt that is the best showing made by any team in the league this year. The team today looks better by a big margin than any team that has come to Lowell this year. "Fifty per cent. better than any other team in the league," is a compliment paid to the Worcesterers recently by Jack Sharrott, manager of the Lowell. Sharrott is a good judge of baseball teams and players. His declaration only calls to mind the prediction of Billy Hamilton, that Worcester was doing well in the lead before August 1. That was several weeks ago, when Worcester was doing well in the lead because of a bad break. Hamilton, another good judge of baseball, saw that Burkett had the material. Hamilton knew the team would come, but on account of his bad start, he named August 1, that he might not be considered a false prophet. Hamilton, a former New England league manager, made a similar declaration about the same time, which was about the time that some of the wise critics in Worcester were declaring positively the team didn't compare with that of last year.

Hughey Jennings, who has put through a few starting plays himself, says the greatest baseball play he ever saw was pulled off by John McGraw and Willie Keeler in a game in Baltimore back in the '90s.

"Unlike most of the great plays one calls to mind," says Jennings, "this wasn't a fielding stunt, but a piece of base running. Keeler was on first base and McGraw at bat. John shot a neat single into left field and Al Sebach—we were playing against the old Washington club that day—loafed a bit on it, seeing that Keeler was sure to be tied with case, but expecting him to pull up there. While, instead of pulling up, he put on full head of steam, and, before Joyce had received the ball, was virtually over the plate. McGraw never stopped at first but kept on to second to draw a throw that would enable Keeler to score.

"Sebach's lead was duly recognized and like a flash John guessed that Keeler was going home. He never hesitated at second, but dashed for third, arriving there just as Joyce was gathering in Sebach's throw out on the grass, high; here McGraw did some quick thinking. He remembered that Joyce was a bad aim, and thought the catcher would not be expecting a throw. Without pulling up at third at all he set sail for the plate, beating the throw on a close decision. There were two runs scored on what should have been only a single, though the scorers had to give McGraw credit for a home run, of course. It was that sort of ball that won pennants for Baltimore."

"This is a beautiful day and I think I will write you a letter, hoping to find you well as I am."

I am writing this letter to you, hoping to be your friend. I fear you are president of the Lowell baseball club and Jack Sharrott is manager.

We have a pretty good ball game up here. We beat the Riverdies. Score, 3 to 0.

I hope when I go home I will be able to practice with the boys. I am almost fourteen years old and I can play ball well. I hope all the boys are playing ball well. I hope you will put this in the diamond notes so I can see it. I would be glad to see it. I got the paper today and the team lost to Brockton 5 to 1, and Howard got the run, but Lowell beat them Monday 4 to 1.

Please tell the boys about this letter. I wish you could answer this letter as soon as you can so I will know you got it. Please call my mother's house at 100 Branch street, Lowell, and tell her I got a letter from you and tell her I will send her a letter tomorrow. ## CATHOLIC LEAGUE

MATHEWS VS. ST. PATRICKS AT SO. COMMON TODAY.

The regular weekly meeting of the board of directors of the Catholic baseball league was held at Mathew hall last evening and the regular routine of business was transacted. A full attendance of the directors was present, and the enthusiasm which prevailed showed that interest in the games is by no means diminishing. Manager Wynne of the Burkes spoke on the good and welfare of the league.

The schedule of the games today is as follows:
St. Patrick's vs. Mathews—Umpire, Wynne, at South common.

Sacred Heart vs. St. John's T. A. at North Chelmsford.
As the St. Patrick's are just one game behind the Mathews in the race for leadership of the league, today's game between these teams will be of vital importance. An unusual element will be the presence of more than 150 rooters from Boston, to help the Acre Boys along. Manager Wynne of the Burkes will umpire and as he is a past master of the national game, there is sure to be a clean and close contest of baseball.

The other game between the Sacred Heart and St. John's will also prove close as these teams are closely bunched.

As many of the players of the Y. M. C. I. are with the militia, this week's game with the Burkes has been postponed. A double-header between these two teams will be played on the occasion of their next meeting.

The standing:

	Won	Lost	P. C.
Mathews	5	1	.83
St. Patrick's	4	1	.80
Sacred Heart	3	4	.43
Burkes	2	2	.50
St. John's T. A.	2	4	.33
Y. M. C. I.	2	4	.33

The members of the Sacred Heart team will meet at Davis corner at 1:30 p. m. today, so as to get to the North Chelmsford grounds in due time for the game which begins out there at 3 p. m.

JIM BARRY

WAS KNOCKED OUT BY SAM LANGFORD.

NEW YORK, June 20.—With a terrific right-hand uppercut to the jaw, Sam Langford of Boston, knocked out Jim Barry, the Chicago heavy-weight, in the third round of a bout scheduled to go 6 rounds at the Fairmount A. C. last night. The men were battling on even terms when Langford saw an opportunity and slipped in the knockout punch. Barry claims that the blow was accidental. Barry assumed the aggressive at the start and landed several good blows which puzzled Langford, who evened matters, however, at the close of the first round, by sending two heavy punches to the head. There was little to choose in the second round and honors were even. In a series of exchanges in the third round, Langford put a left to the jaw and followed it with a terrific right uppercut.

SAWYER KNOCKED OUT.

BAR HARBOR, Me., June 20.—Before a large gathering at the skating pavilion last evening, Joe Flynn of Boston knocked out Dave Sawyer of Rockland in the second minute of the first round.

Flynn assumed the aggressive at the start, and followed up his man, landing many savage blows on the body. The second minute he gave the Rockland man a right-hand punch which staggered him, and with a left hook sent him to the mat. Sawyer was unable to rise.

The crowd cried fake, saying that Sawyer had laid down, but those at the ringside could plainly see it was a clear knockout.

The second bout was between Fred Sidney of Boston and his opponent, Alie Ballou of Shirley, Me. This was conceded by all to have been one of the best bouts ever pulled off at the pavilion. Sidney was the aggressor throughout the encounter, but was unable to land any telling blows on the white kid. It was an even thing up to the sixth, when the Boston boy had a shade the better of it. It could be easily called a draw. The referee was P. C. O'Connell of Bar Harbor.

SAWYER AND KELLEY.

BANGOR, Me., June 20.—Tom Sawyer of Rockland and Tim Kelley of Bangor went six fast rounds before the Bangor club last night. Kelley forced the fighting at the start and had the best of the first round. The second and third were about even. Sawyer had the best of the last three rounds and finished much the stronger.

MOHAIR ELEVEN

Leader in the Cricket League

Much of the cricket put up so far this season has been of a pretty high class, several of the latters showing sterling form, and many of the bowlers establishing records. Mohair and Needham are showing championship form. Mohair has registered five straight victories and no losses. Needham is giving several surprise parties, as it has yet to meet defeat. Mathews is playing a grand game and is well placed. The following shows the standing of the clubs to date.

Mathews	5	1	.83

FORGED LETTERS

Of Sen. Lodge and Gov. Guild

PITTSBURG, June 20.—D. G. Miller, silk hatted, fresh coated, silver haired and pompous, was arrested on the streets here yesterday afternoon by detectives, to the great delight of police all over the country. Miller has withdrawn in the past two months, it is alleged, collected over $200,000 in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Washington, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis. To scores of manufacturers and business men in these different cities, Miller is said to have represented himself as a lobbyist, raising money to be used in securing the passage in the next congress of the 2-cent railroad fare bill. Miller had letters in his possession purporting to be from prominent men in every state where he operated.

All of the letters are unquestionably forgeries. For use in Boston he had letters from Gov. Guild, Senator Lodge and others. For use in New York he had letters from Gov. Hughes, Sen. Platt and Congressman Sander. The letters that he used in Pennsylvania bear the signatures of Senator Penrose, Senator Knox, Congressman John Dalzell and a number of well known men of Pittsburgh and Philadelphia. There were also letters from Secretary Tamm, Senator La Follette, Congressman Littlefield of Maine, Gov. Peck and many others.

Miller came to Pittsburgh two weeks ago from Chicago, where he had been in complete disguise. He was arrested on a charge of passing forged letters. He was taken to the city jail and his letters were seized. He was then taken to the city jail and his letters were seized. He was then taken to the city jail and his letters were seized.

THE INJUNCTION PLANK

AS USUAL THE REPUBLICANS SMOOTHED OVER THEIR ANTE CONVENTION BICKERINGS AND DID THE THINGS BEST CALCULATED TO SECURE VICTORY AT THE POLLS.

THE PLATFORM HAS NOTHING VERY RADICAL, AND EVEN IF IT HAD, THE FACT THAT IT IS FRAMED FOR ELECTION PURPOSES ONLY WOULD DISCOUNT SUCH A FEATURE.

THE INJUNCTION PLANK WAS INTRODUCED AT THE INSTIGATION OF THE ROOSEVELT RADICALS, BUT IT IS FRAMED IN SUCH MILD LANGUAGE THAT IT MAY BE SET DOWN AS MEANING NOTHING IN PARTICULAR.

IT IS AS FOLLOWS:

"We believe, however, the rules of procedure in the federal courts with respect to issuance of the writ of injunction should be more accurately defined by statute, and that no injunction or temporary restraining order should be issued without notice, except irreparable injury would result from delay, in which case a speedy hearing thereafter should be granted."

THAT IS A TAME AFFAIR COMPARED TO THE PLANK AS ORIGINALLY PROPOSED COMING FROM THE ROOSEVELT PUBLICITY BUREAU. IN A PLATFORM PUT OUT FOR ELECTIONEERING PURPOSES A PLANK OF THAT KIND WILL SOON BE FORGOTTEN AFTER ELECTION.

LODGE ON PANICS

SENATOR LODGE BOASTED AS USUAL OF WHAT THE REPUBLICAN PARTY DID IN DEFENCE OF THE GOLD STANDARD, BUT HE DID NOT EXPLAIN HOW THE SHERMAN SILVER LAW WAS FORCED UPON THE COUNTRY BY A REPUBLICAN CONGRESS IN 1890. NOR DID HE REMIND HIS AUDIENCE THAT THIS SILVER LAW WAS PUT THROUGH AS A MEANS OF CARRYING THE McKINLEY TARIFF BILL THAT AFTERWARDS PROVED TO BE THE MOTHER OF TRUSTS.

IT WAS THE SHERMAN SILVER LAW THAT BROUGHT ON THE FINANCIAL CRISIS OF 1893 AND IT WAS A DEMOCRATIC PRESIDENT WHO CALLED A SPECIAL SESSION OF CONGRESS TO REPEAL THAT PERNICIOUS LAW AND END THE PANIC. YET LODGE DESIGNATED THE PANIC OF 1893 A DEMOCRATIC PANIC. IT WAS NO MORE OF A DEMOCRATIC PANIC THAN WAS THE PANIC OF 1907 WITH ROOSEVELT ON THE THRONE.

THE SEWERAGE PROBLEM

THE FIRST RAY OF LIGHT ON THE SEWERAGE PROBLEMS OF THE ANNEXED DISTRICT COMES FROM THE STATE BOARD OF HEALTH AND IS SUFFICIENTLY CLEAR TO INDICATE TO ANY INTELLIGENT MIND THAT THE PROBLEMS OF THE ANNEXED DISTRICT COMES FROM THE STATE BOARD OF HEALTH AND IS SUFFICIENTLY CLEAR TO INDICATE TO ANY INTELLIGENT MIND THAT THE PROBLEMS THERE ARE NOT AS DIFFICULT AS THEY HAVE BEEN REPRESENTED, ALTHOUGH DIFFICULT ENOUGH TO REQUIRE CAREFUL STUDY, CAUTION AND JUDICIOUS ACTION. WE HAD SUPPOSED THAT THE SEWERAGE OF WIGGINVILLE AND SOUTH LOWELL MIGHT HAVE BEEN CONNECTED WITH THAT OF THE OAKLAND DISTRICT, BUT THIS PHASE OF THE CASE WAS NOT SUBMITTED TO THE STATE BOARD FOR CONSIDERATION. SO FAR AS THE STATE BOARD KNOWS THERE IS NO SUCH PROBLEM. HAD THE LARGER PROBLEM OF DRAINING THE ENTIRE DISTRICT BEEN SUBMITTED TO THE STATE BOARD NO DOUBT THE ANSWER MIGHT HAVE BEEN DIFFERENT AND THE CITY MIGHT HAVE DERIVED SOME ADVANTAGE FROM THE INFORMATION THUS OBTAINED.

SCHOOL BOARD GRAFT

IT IS NOW REPORTED THAT THE COMMITTEE ON BOOKS AND SUPPLIES OF THE SCHOOL BOARD HOPES TO WIN OVER MR. GOWARD IN FAVOR OF INTRODUCING THE "HARMONIC" SYSTEM OF MUSIC IN THE SCHOOLS. AT A TIME WHEN IT IS ANNOUNCED THAT THE TAX RATE WILL BE MUCH HIGHER THE CITIZENS OF LOWELL WILL NOT BE IN ANY MOOD TO SIT IDLY BY AND WATCH THE SCHOOL BOARD CARRYING OUT A GAME OF GRAFT FOR THE BENEFIT OF A BOOK PUBLISHING CONCERN TO COST THE CITY EVENTUALLY FROM $10,000 TO $20,000.

THE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION SNATCHED UP SHERMAN OF NEW YORK FOR VICE-PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDACY AS IF HE WERE LIABLE TO GET AWAY FROM THEM. SHERMAN IS REGARDED AS A HARMONIZER FOR NEW YORK BUT IT REMAINS TO BE SEEN WHETHER HE WILL BE ABLE TO GET ALL THE HUGHES MEN IN LINE.

SEEN AND HEARD

Miss Violet Grunewald, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Grunewald, Jr., of Westford street, is one of the most popular and happiest little girls in Lowell. On Sunday last she received her first communion at St. Patrick's church and on Monday was confirmed by Archbishop O'Connell and at the services she carried with her a solid gold rosary, the gift of her grandfather, Louis Grunewald, Sr., of far away New Orleans, and a beautiful carved ivory prayer book, the gift of her grandmother. The beautiful gifts arrived just in time for the services, and none was happier than Miss Grunewald. Mr. and Mrs. Grunewald, Sr., are among the leading Catholics of the south and their golden wedding in New Orleans, at which they were remarried at a pontifical high mass was one of the most imposing religious affairs of its kind witnessed in the Louisiana metropolis in a long time.

If you are ever travelling by the coast and well kept farm house of Patrick Cogger in Cohann, N. H., you will not be disappointed in the pump in front of his house, at which all travellers stop to enjoy their thirst, a most novel wash basin used by the farm help. It is of solid brass, worked up so as to make a perfect wash basin. Mr. Cogger has been offered good money for the pump but he has refused all offers. One theory of the origin of the basin is that the Indians in days gone by used it to pound corn when making meal and the pounding of years resulted in the peculiar formation. Another theory is that originally the rock stood under a pump or spring and that the constant dripping of the water wore it away. The rock was there before Mr. Cogger and he has been there a life time. You may wash in it if you desire but you can't buy it.

One has but to ride a few miles in the country to appreciate the extent of the damage done by the brown-tail moths to the trees along the road. Tree after tree approaches without a leaf on it while a host of brown-tail moth nests explain the destruction.

SOLITUDE.

The solitude of hills, or of the sea,
The solitude of dense far-stretching woods,
Have taught in them of loneliness for me,
Who love the songs of element! moods.But in the city streets, where myriad feet
Pass here and yon in hurried onward press,
There I find a wilderness complete
And taste the woes of utter loneliness.

—John Kendrick Bangs in July Metropolitan Magazine.

Abram Gotsky returned to his farm house near Troy Hills, N. J., yesterday afternoon. The doctor met him at the door.

"Four," said the doctor.
"No," replied Gotsky, "It's only half past 3."

"Four the boys this time," said the doctor, breaking it gently.

"Merciful gracious," cried the farmer, and dropped into a chair.
It was true. Mrs. Gotsky had presented her husband with four tokens of her affection. The four boys weighed altogether 15 pounds, four ounces, and are perfectly formed and are doing well.

The attention of President Roosevelt is respectfully called to Mrs. Gotsky, who does not know what race suicide is. The attention of the trustees of the Andrew Carnegie "hero fund" is called, with equal respect, to Mr. Gotsky. They have had 29 children in 15 years, as per time-table below. Fourteen survive.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

MR. TAFT NOMINATED.

Boston Herald: The expected happened at Chicago yesterday. Secretary Taft was nominated as the republican candidate for president, completing the program of the convention work to date.

Conflicting elements were brought together in harmony upon platform and candidates, and the republican party is apparently united, as usual. Mr. Taft, in ability, integrity and in every phase of his character, measures up to the high standard of American presidents. He has been tried in responsible places and at no time has been found wanting. He holds, as he deserves to hold, the confidence of the American people. There is no opportunity to challenge his past performance or to doubt the success of any future performance that may be required of him.

EARLY CROP REPORTS.

New Bedford Mercury: The bureau of statistics in the department of agriculture is planning to issue throughout the summer its crop reports from one to two days earlier than the time at which they appeared last year. The reports will relate to the same dates as last year, but they will be issued earlier through improvements rendering possible more speedy work. This will bring out the grain reports relating to conditions of the first of the month, usually on the 15th of each month, while crop reports, which relate to conditions on the twenty-fifth of the preceding month, will usually be brought out on the first instead of on the third.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

A judge of the District of Columbia supreme court has characterized certain conduct of Jimmie Garfield as "unconstitutional, null and void," and has ordered the writ of mandamus to issue directing the secretary of the interior to rescind one of his orders. Unhappily, the platform had been adopted when this infringement of the executive prerogative became known. Otherwise a plank restricting the right of the court to mandamus would undoubtedly have been included in the declaration of party principles.

W. J. Chalmers of Chicago, who did considerable touring in Europe this spring with his wife and family, advises Americans to join the Royal Automobile club of Great Britain or the Touring club of France if they intend to do any European touring. He drove his Packard from Naples through the mountains of Italy, crossing the mountains to Geneva, Switzerland, and from there to France and Germany. Mr. Chalmers said he lost less than four hours because of the trouble on his whole trip, this occurring at Tours, where tracks had been thrown into a street, which required the replacement of two tubes and two casings. After being compelled by customs officers to put up deposits at the Italian, French and Austrian frontiers, Mr. Chalmers joined the Touring club of France and secured a card that permitted him to enter Germany five times without being stopped at the frontier to make deposits each time.

It has been rumored for several days that the earl of Crawford has sold his handsome auxiliary ship rigged yacht Valthalla to an American yachtsman and that the Valthalla will shortly come to these waters. The earl of Crawford, who has cruised many thousands of miles in this yacht, has wanted to sell her for some time and to build a new one. He purchased the Valthalla from Major Laycock in 1901 and took part in the race across the ocean for the German emperor's prize, finishing third. She made the passage under sail in 14 days 2 hours and 45 minutes. The Valthalla came here in 1895 and followed the yachts as they raced for the America's cup and Lord Dunsraven, who was the challenger that year, returned home in the visitor. The Valthalla was built by Ramage &amp; Ferguson in 1892. She was designed and rigged after the model of a privateer of 160 years ago and carries every known sail of those days. Below deck she had a ward room, gun room and an armory similar to naval boats. Her owner, who was interested in the poor of London, used to take her on long cruises to teach them seamanship and navigation. The Valthalla has been all over the world and is a most attractive vessel when under sail and a very able ship in every way.

MAN HANGED

CUT DOWN IN TIME TO SAVE HIS LIFE.

BOSTON, June 20.—One man was hanged in an international fight between Poles, Armenians and Frenchmen at East Bridge street, the victim being cut down by his comrades just in time to save his life. The man involved was employed in the brickyard at Westdale.

On Thursday night a fight occurred among a number of foreigners who work in the yards and had been drinking.

Some of the men drew knives, and a fierce struggle began, in which one Pole was struck up but was saved by the intervention of friends. Four of the more timid members of the party, including the victim of the hanging, escaped from the leading house where the fight occurred, and went to East Bridge street.

Officer Frank LeBaron met the refugees and heard their story and locked them up in the station for the night. Yesterday morning they were set free.

CHEATED

The merchant who pays for advertising and doesn't get it, cries out that advertising doesn't pay. He is wrong. Advertising pays if you get it. If you pay for any commodity that is never delivered, you lose money on it just the same as you lose on advertising that you pay for but never get.

When merchants learn to buy their advertising space in the newspapers as they buy their merchandise—by measure and weight, it will pay them. Buy space by the inch per thousand of circulation and see that you get what you pay for. Then you will never be cheated in advertising and it will pay you. The Sun will give you more advertising for your money than any other paper in Lowell. It is

LOWELL'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER

$150,000 DAMAGE

Done by Fire at Portland, Me.

COURT RECORDS WERE SAVED

Firemen Had to Make a Desperate Fight

PORTLAND, Me., June 20.—For more than an hour last evening this city was threatened with a repetition of the great fire of last winter. A patrolman first discovered it and gave the alarm.

It started in the warehouse department of the store of Loring, Short & Harmon at the corner of Congress and Center streets, and as soon as Chief Eldridge received the alarm he ordered a second alarm to be given, and then finding it a harder proposition than he had anticipated, ordered a general alarm.

The Lancaster building was built by J. B. Brown & Sons in 1881, and is one of the best four-story blocks in the city. Loring, Short & Harmon occupied the store for their book and stationery business and had a large book bindery in connection.

The Alwood building on Center street is just below the Lancaster building, and after the great fire in 1914 it was leased by the company for use of the courts.

Llewellyn Burtin, clerk of courts, had not left his office, and he at once arranged to remove all the books of the "live" records of the department, and was assisted by Fred W. Matthews. His force was increased shortly by the arrival of Mr. Gaudy, his assistant, and Miss Hopper, one of his clerks.

While the men took the records as fast as they could to the Hamilton drug store on Pine street, Miss Hopper packed up the books. The Alwood building was especially protected by order of Chief Eldridge.

The firemen worked in constant danger of "live" electric wires until the current was shut off. Chief Eldridge found that the Lancaster building would be ruined and directed the attention of his men to the work of saving the surrounding buildings.

The fire at one time crept over into the other half of the building occupied by Haskell & Jones, tailors, but it was promptly met. The thick party wall aided the firemen at this point.

When first the fire seemed to be in the shipping room in the basement, but it shot up the elevator shaft to the roof. The fire was the reverse of spectacular. The flames could be seen for an instant through room or windows, and then it died down, while the blinding smoke poured down on the firemen.

The seventh revised edition of Verill's Maine civil codes was in the hands of Loring Short & Harmon and went with the rest.

The losses are approximately as follows:

The J. B. Brown estate company, owners of the building, $50,000.

Loring, Short & Harmon, stock, $20,000.

Haskell & Jones, $20,000, smoke and water damage.

Ira F. Clark & Co., smoke and water damage.

George Davis, pianos, $500.

The Manufacturers' output company, $200.

Smith photo company, $200.

Chandler's band, $200.

Chester clothing company, $200.

The building near by the Lancaster block is owned by Charles C. Clark and was badly damaged. The insurance will probably average more than one-half the loss and in some cases wholly covers the damage.

RECENT PAINTINGS BY AMERICAN WOMEN

ISNT it possible that the great American novelist, the great American poet, the great American sculptor or the great American artist may be a woman? Although comparatively novel in these times, already women have done wonders. With a larger experience and larger culture how much more will be possible! At the recent salon in Paris the number of women who had pictures on the walls was larger than ever before, and critics say that the quality of the work was finer than could have been expected. Of course the French view of art differs somewhat from ours. Shapely nymphs and gorgeous flowers that are the favorite "genus" of our millionaire art connoisseurs are taboo with the French critic, who prefers a touch of vagueness, of mysticism, in his paintings. An American woman who has succeeded in catching just the elusive atmosphere that is dear to the Parisian art lover and who has, besides, a solid basis of technical skill on which to build her superstructure of art is Miss Mary Cassatt. She is the sister of the late A. J. Cassatt, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, and her canvases are no mere hasty sketches, but represent the best efforts of a skillful craftsman, a mature, cultivated mind and a single delicate and idealistic imagination. Two of Miss Cassatt's recent paintings are reproduced on this page, and when it is stated that she is a native of Pittsburgh, the home of iron, steel and coal, whence are supposed to come no good things in art or literature, the unpicturesqueness will have more occasion for surprise. Miss Cassatt comes of Scotch-Irish stock, as Mrs. Margaret Deland, the novelist, and Miss Agnes Irwin, the president of Radcliffe college, who are all Pittsburghers by birth and whose families belonged to the same circle of substantial, well bred folk who built the commercial foundation upon which rises the present greatness of Pittsburgh—people who had nothing in common with the new multimillionaires that newspapers exploit to the discredit of a city which cares not less for intellectual achievement than any other in the Union. Miss Cassatt first took up art at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts in Philadelphia. In 1875 she went to Europe to study. She lived in Spain for some time and studied in Italy and Holland. Finally she settled down to serious work in Paris, where she acquired knowledge that her work was influenced by Manet and Degas. She painted assiduously and gradually was accorded recognition. French critics compare her style to that of Pissarro and Gauguin, and so appreciative are they that she is the only woman whose work has been given a place in the "cabinet" collection of the Louvre with that of other artists of the impressionist school. As a further mark of their esteem she was in 1905, on the recommendation of M. Delcasse, foreign minister of France, decorated with the cross of the Legion of Honor.

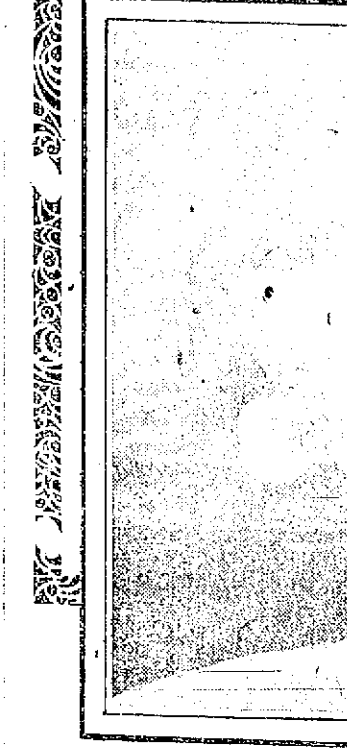

Miss Cassatt has received notable prizes from the Pan-American exposition and the St. Louis world's fair. She won the Walter Lippincott prize, which carries with it a cash gift of $500. Besides these, many honors have come to her. She is not only a worker in oils, but uses pastel as well, and is considered one of the foremost colorists of the day. Her paintings sell readily and are worth from $2,000 up. She has not been in America for a number of years. Her home at the present time is at 16 Rue de Marignan, Paris. Philadelphia, New York and Chicago have the largest art schools in the country, but the Quaker City seems to be a favorite place of residence for the successful woman artist. There is an air of tranquillity and repose about its picturesque suburbs which is extremely soothing to tired nerves. Miss Cassatt's studio is in the city. She has a large collection of pictures, including those of Shilpin Green, Jessie Wilcox Smith, Violet Oakley, Blanche Dillaye and many other famous women artists. She makes her home in or about the Quaker City. Miss Dillaye, one of the best water color painters in the world, is a native of Syracuse, N. Y. She has exhibited at the salon and at the French exhibitions. A specialist in painting as well as water color, she has received many medals and awards for her paintings and etchings. She is the president of the Plastic club, a member of the Fellowship club of Philadelphia, of the New York Water Color club, Women's Art club, American Women's Art association of Paris and many other organizations. Her Philadelphia studio is at 10 South Eleventh street. She recently purchased a winter home at Coconut Grove, in Dade county, Fla., where the beauty of the landscape particularly appeals to one with her sensitive eye for color.

Among her best known paintings are "The Bonnet," "The House on the Hill," shown at the Paris salon and now in the possession of Jodie Vann of Syracuse; "The Hunter's Moon," "French Pansies at Sunset," "Light in the Valley," etc. It is noticeable that women artists specialize more and more. There are miniature specialists, water color specialists, etchers, portrait, marine and landscape artists, with many subdivisions and classes. Illustrating helps to supplement many women's incomes and in others is the vocation of the artist. Mrs. Lillian Cox, wife of Kingston Cox, paints portraits and religious subjects. Dora Wheeler Keith, daughter of Mrs. C. Wheeler Keith, devotes her time to portraits. In fact, a glance at the pictures upon the walls at the exhibitions of the National Academy of Design or the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts will give an idea of the various lines that the woman artist prefers to follow. Some of them, like Miss Cassatt, delineate domestic scenes; others paint children or flowers. Each has a line which she follows with more or less devotion to the ideal. Of course, most of the American exhibitions are open to women. Abroad some of them are not. At least women exhibitors often find their work badly hampered when it has a fair measure of merit. But in Paris the public is more generous to the fair sex, not from any sense of chivalry, perhaps, but because America sends every year about a thousand girl students to study in the French ateliers, and it would be a piece of unbecoming thriftlessness for the French to discourage this prodigious invasion which contributes to the enrichment of art schools and tradesmen of all classes, for many of these women come from wealthy homes and have ample means at their disposal. Many women artists of prominence have studios in Paris, for, like their male colleagues, they have learned that they can do better work in Paris than elsewhere because of its art atmosphere. There are, of course, the famous galleries, with their hints from the masters, and the great ones of the world of art may all be met at some time or other in the French capital, while many of them have studios there. Miss Cassatt, Miss Elizabeth Norton, Miss Elizabeth Gardner Boudier, Miss Marie Cronin, Miss Esther Hunt, Miss Ellen Stuart, Miss Catherine W. Smith, Mrs. Mary Mac-Manis, Miss Blanche Dillaye, Miss Anne Kimble and many others spend all or part of their time in France. Miss Cassatt, though, although her address is in Worcester, Mass., is often to be found in the alluring French capital, where her canvases are admired greatly. She was a pupil at the Julian and Luvier schools. Miss Deaux is one of the most distinguished of American women painters, having won gold medals at many exhibitions.

Most of the women who have achieved artistic success in art have received some of all of their training abroad. Maximal as are the American art schools there is apparently a feeling that they cannot yet give. Of course foreign study is expensive. It cannot be managed comfortably on less than a thousand a year, although it may cost much more and has cost even less. The temptations and trials of the art student in Paris are no greater than in any other strange city provided the girl speaks French fluently and is provided with independent means. The women at the top of the profession have seen to it that many helpful clubs are provided for the novice, and unless a girl prefers the safety of the Quarter Latin there is no reason why she should be less conventional than at home. The American Girls' club in Paris is one of the places in which the girl art student may be comfortable and surrounded by refined influences at a small cost. Its accommodations cost from 25 to 30 francs a week. In France $25 will buy about as much as $40 in America. Mrs. White-law Reid is the president of this club. The Students' Hostel, the gift of Mrs. Whitney Blair, is a woman's hotel on a small scale. Holy Trinity Lodge is another abiding place for the girl student. It is under the direction of Holy Trinity church, Paris. Altogether the outlook for women artists who seek to perfect themselves abroad is encouraging, and as more women turn to art each year there is no doubt that larger opportunities will be opened to them. FROM PALACE TO HOTEL.
Achim, the beautiful palace built for the late Empress Elizabeth of Austria at Cortu at a cost of $5,000,000, has been purchased by a syndicate, which will convert it into a hotel and sanitarium. The palace, which is of pure white marble, was designed by the Italian architect Signor Carlo. It contains 128 rooms and a chapel, situated in the grounds, planted with 25,000 rare rose trees. In 1898, when the empress left her palace for the last time, it is said that she burst into tears and said to one of the ladies of her suite, "Something in my heart tells me that I shall never return here again." She was murdered at Geneva soon after.

Not to Develop Your Talent Is a Crime

JUST a word about using towels in hotel or restaurant dressing rooms. Only recently I heard of a most pathetic case. A young woman wiped her hand on a towel which had been used once before. She then rubbed her eyes, and as an almost immediate result she contracted an eye disease which today, at the age of twenty-seven, leaves her blind for life. You can't be too careful, especially now that the summer is here, when disease germs are more than usually active.

To have an unpleasant subject, there is no excuse for a woman who lives in unclean surroundings. Even the most forlorn back yard may be transformed by the use of a little grass seed and patience. Stems and plain cardboard paper are cheap, while I have seen denim undersized rooms I preferred infinitely to Louis XV. brocade "parlors." One of the most attractive dining rooms I have seen was furnished at a cost of $15.

The walls were hung with green cartridge paper. The floor was covered with green matting, and the furniture, which was home made, was stained the same soft tone of green. If you have a window which looks out on a roof or some one else's unpleasant back yard, why don't you cover it with stained glass paper and hang side curtains of figured net in the same shades?

The effect is perfectly charming. Remember this—that we realize it or not, we are unconsciously influenced by our surroundings.

Now that warm weather is here back to words of wisdom:
Simplify your housekeeping and avoid nervous prostration.

1. I away your heavy rugs and substitute grass matting. Take down the heavy pictures and put up prints if you object to the plain walls. Look over your dressing table and remove all superfluous articles. Take away also the elaborate folded cover and leave the surface bare or else cover it with a towel.

Go through your closet and remove all the winter things, even to shoes and wrappers. Only keep what is absolutely necessary and get along with as little as possible.

Do the same thing in the dining room and in the kitchen. Adopt an entirely different mode of life from that of the winter, including simpler cooking and simpler table arrangements.
That is the way to spare yourself and lengthen your life and to save your complexion.
If a girl has a talent, she should be taught that it is a crime not to develop it.
Most women fritter their lives away

A POPULAR SWEDISH STORY WRITER.

Selma Lagerlof, the famous Swedish story writer, was born in Sweden. She is now living in New York City. She has written many books, including "The Gypsy Caravan" and "The Secret of the Olden." She is one of the most popular story writers of the day.

—and, by the way, homemaking is a real talent which you can study and improve on like anything else. Well, if this is the case, what a goose you are to be drawn away from it by something you cannot do anywhere near as well.
I have come to the conclusion that happiness consists in sticking to and cultivating to its highest degree the one thing you can do best of all others. That one thing if well done will bring you all the rest.

Presumably one of the homely virtues that is often ignored when we are young.
The mother who allows her child to become fat, for it is idle and starts early to eat that by in his time for another day, is doing that thing which almost as many mothers as fathers do, and which is a habit of casting away work the very thing which it is coming hard or worse—once is a fatal one that clings to us all through life, enabling like a lot of weeds all our modern efforts.

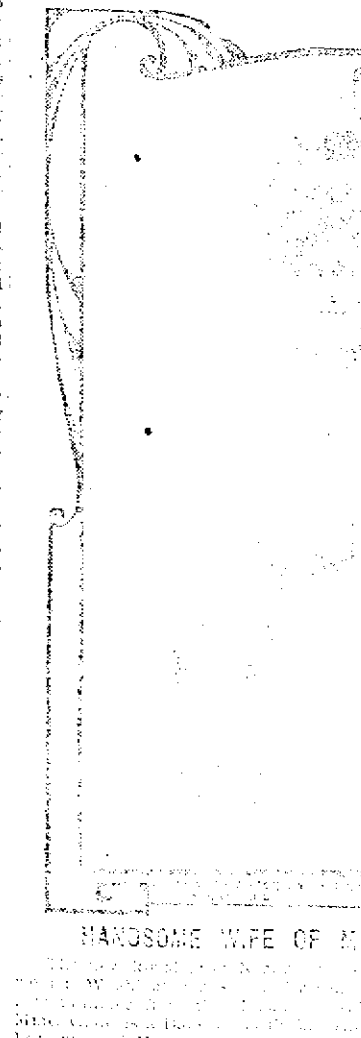

It is as deadly a preventive of the good as the bad. There is only one thing that can counteract this tendency and that is the tendency to do the thing well. The mother who holds their child in their hands when they are young, and who never lets them do anything for themselves, are the mothers who are doing this thing.

It is a habit of casting away work the very thing which it is coming hard or worse—once is a fatal one that clings to us all through life, enabling like a lot of weeds all our modern efforts.

too heavy in warm weather. Well, my dear maid, look at your laundry list. Why wear white petticoats, for instance, when a pongee one looks just as pretty and will go with all your light dresses?
If you wear white shirt waists and white skirts, pray consider what this means—three pieces soiled every time you go downtown. There are your waist, your skirt and your petticoat, not to speak of the wash belt you probably wear.

Of course you can't be dressed in white unless it is immaculate. That's why I say don't wear it. There are other things just as pretty and much easier on the maid.

For instance, what is the matter with an old red lined dress worn with black gloves, a black hat and the serviceable pongee petticoat?

By the way, while we are on the subject of dress let me mention that the pump which has heretofore reigned supreme among shoes has given way at last to the tie.

All the smartly powdered women are wearing high cut ties or even summer weight boots.

Black shoes are smart only in suede or patent leather. Flunking of suede it now comes in all shades, even in Copenhagen blue, to match the different gowns.

I do so pity the poor rich these days. Most of them are trying to make money. Bridge seems the easiest way, and the other day I saw a touching scene on the piazza of a country club not a hundred miles from New York.

One of our most prominent social climbers handed over a huge roll of bills to a young matron of the Four Hundred, who coolly pocketed the same, with the airy remark: "So sorry. Maybe you'll have better luck next time."

Well, it wasn't a dead loss to the social climber anyway.

Write the most original woman of the smart set, however, is Mrs. W. Well, perhaps, I had better be discreet. She lives in New York's most select mid-season resort. Her fortune has shrunk to a solitary paltry million, and naturally she is afraid of the poorhouse, so she has taken to raising dogs. She never goes out walking accompanied by less than twenty-five of them. That's the only thing she has left to show for her money.

Yes, our dear lady coming a mile off to get out of the pawing, yawling, snuffling and snuffling of her four footed army.

She dresses like a man—in a sweater, a shirt and the most abbreviated of skirts, covered with dog hairs.

Her suite is given over to carlines. They are trained to stifle their roll in the car, and they even frisk in the parlor. The only thing they don't do is to come to the door.

She is almost as enthusiastic over her own horses that it is a case of love or leave my dog. If you don't love my dog, and indeed you wouldn't, then I'll have to have my dog. If you don't love my dog, then I'll have my dog. If you don't love my dog, then I'll have my dog.

See to it that the dog is not a nuisance to all.

the rich American would rather buy a poor painting at a high price in Paris than a fine one at a low price in his own country. Some artists claim that

TRAFFIC IN WOMEN

2000 Said to Have Been Brought Here From France

CHICAGO, June 20.—Wholesale traffic in French women exposed by the federal authorities by the arrest of A. Duval and wife in the raiding of a resort in Chicago and a "retreat" at Blue Island, Ill., is to be broken up by United States District Attorney Edwin Sims.

Information secured at Duval's headquarters probably will lead to the arrest of 2000 French women by United States marshals at Indianapolis, St. Louis, New York, New Orleans, Minneapolis, Kansas City and other cities. All of them who have been here less than three years will be deported to the country from which they were brought. Duval and his wife, it is said by federal officials, cleared in their business approximately $2000 a year and owing to the vigilance of the federal authorities were on the point of leaving for France when arrested.

DRAW TENDER

HAD TO STRUGGLE FOR HIS LIFE IN SWIFT CURRENT.

BOSTON, June 20.—Draw Tender Edward J. Brougham at the Broadway extension bridge had a struggle for life in the swift current of the upper harbor today when he attempted to rescue six-year-old Thomas Leonard, whose body was swept away by the stream. Brougham was taken to the city hospital unconscious but he recovered enough to be removed to his home. The lad's body has not been recovered. The Leonard boy went into the water waist deep and knowing that he could not swim he attempted to lay on his back in the water and float. The current which swings out swiftly from under the bridge took the boy in its grasp and bore him out into the channel. Brougham heard the cries, dove from the bridge and swam to the side of the drowning boy. Frantic with fear young Leonard grasped Brougham's head as the drawtender swam up to him. Both disappeared below the surface of the water. Breathless and choking Brougham came to the surface alone. Luckily two men who were working near the bridge saw Brougham's predicament and had put out towards him in a boat. They succeeded in drawing him from the water alive but unconscious.

THE LOWELL BOYS

What They Are Doing at Pine Camp, N. Y.

Pine Plains, N. Y., Wednesday morning.—The sixth regiment was busily engaged in regimental movements for several hours under command of Lieut. Col. Cook. In the afternoon Major Sweetser's battalion was sent out on outpost duty. Company C went out Cossack posts under command of Corporal McLaughlin, Linquist, Peterson and Brock. Capt. Tremblay of Co. C while out scouting this morning captured a snake three feet long. Tremblay is now spending his spare time endeavoring to charm the snake as he has received an offer from Barnum & Bailey's circus as a snake charmer.

Private Monte of Co. K is spending his spare time writing a book entitled "Why I Like to Be a Soldier Boy." Captain N. Jeyes of Co. G was appointed officer of the day Thursday. Private Henry Matiloux of Co. G was appointed orderly to Colonel Priest Wednesday and Private Gaskin was appointed orderly Thursday.

Corn. Herb. Webster entertained the guard Wednesday singing and telling stories of his experience in the army. It is whispered around camp that Herb is thinking seriously of joining the regular army.

Private Brock of Co. C has been appointed assistant engineer to Adam Myrick at the Inspector's headquarters. Priv. Boudreau of Co. C is developing his muscle by giving exhibitions of soft shoe dancing.

Seven new men of Co. C were initiated Wednesday night. Private "Jack" Irving sang a song entitled "If I Were Only Back in Dear Old Pawtucketville." Private Greenwell officiated in the capacity of judge advocate and musician Lawler was appointed warrant officer.

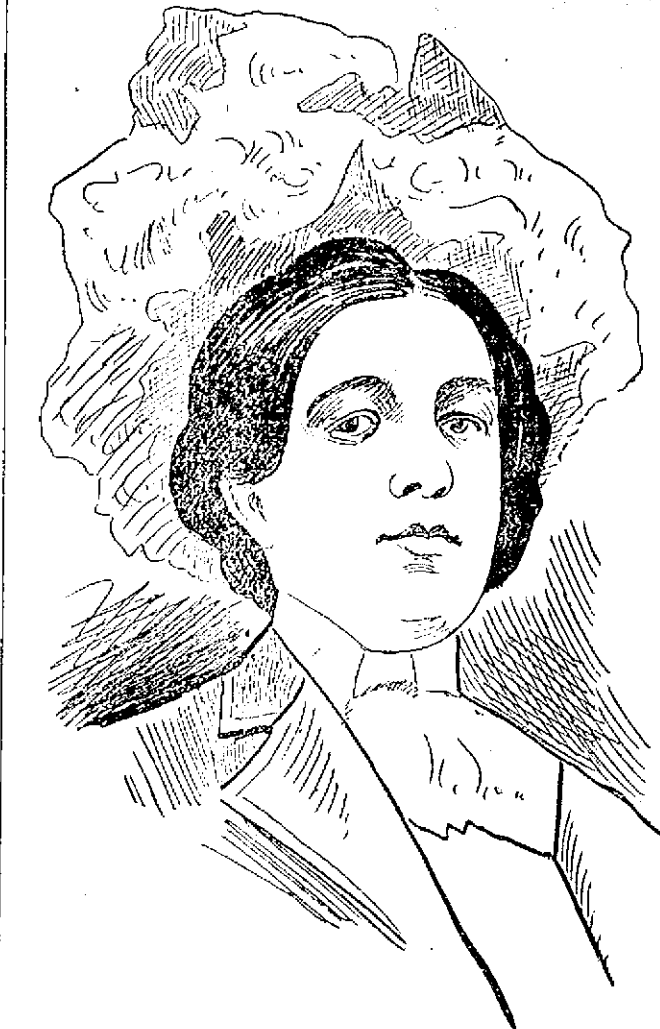

Bunker Hill day was observed Wednesday evening by a sham-bang parade by the Eighth regiment of Massachusetts. The men paraded through the different streets headed by the band of the Eighth regiment. The features of the parade were the different floats. One of the floats was carried by eight men and was decorated in the front with green streamers and two lighted candles and on the rear of it were two large tonic bottles and in the center there was a dead soldier with the inscription, "Died in the Storm." The float was brought up the rear of the procession and it certainly was a treat to hear them play.

Thursday afternoon the first brigade which consists of the 2d, 6th and 8th regiments was assembled for its first long hike since coming to camp. The men were dressed in khaki uniform, with haversack, canteen and shelter tents with blankets. The 2d and 6th regiments were carried by the U. S. army wagons. The men were marched for a distance of twelve miles and during the march advance guards were thrown out in front of the main body. Corp. McLaughlin, Privates Callahan and Brock were sent out as scouts, they having earned the reputation of being the best scouts in the Sixth regiment. The command struck camp about 7 p. m. and the men immediately pitched the small shelter tents for the night, two men sleeping in each tent. The men were awakened at 5 a. m. the next morning and after having breakfast started on another hike.

At 8 a. m. the men were formed for a sham battle, each man having been furnished with twenty rounds of blank ammunition. The Second regiment was drawn up in the battle array against the Sixth regiment. The battle was carried on for a little over an hour when the Sixth succeeded in repulsing the Second regiment. During the battle Private Hiale of Co. C, who was acting as a scout for Co. C, captured a man from the Second regiment. The man returned to camp about 11:30 Friday noon, a tired looking body of troops, after their long hike.

Dag A. Davidson of Co. C has been detailed with the hospital corps.

MURDER MYSTERY

Body of Woman Found Floating in East River

NEW YORK, June 20.—What may prove to be a murder mystery was disclosed today when the body of a woman tightly bound with ropes, was found floating in the East River near 52nd street. The woman was apparently about forty years old. The body was fairly well clothed. In one of the stockings the police found a time slip marked "Mary Flynn, hotel Gotham," beyond that there was nothing on the body which would aid in identifying it.

Mary Flynn was employed at the hotel Gotham as a chambermaid for about two weeks some time ago. She left there suddenly and nothing was seen of her afterwards. The people at the hotel knew nothing about the woman or her family.

MARRIAGE BANNS LAWRENCE MAN

Of Madame Anna Gould Was Found Dead in a Cell

PARIS, June 20.—The marriage banns of Madame Anna Gould and Prince Heli De Sagan today were posted on the walls of the offices of the mayors of sixteenth and seventeenth arrondissements of Paris in accordance with the law that requires the publication of a marriage in the arrondissement of each contracting party. The document reads as follows:

"This publication of an intended marriage between Marie-Pierre-Camille-Louis-Heli-Boson-de Talleyrand-Perigord, Prince De Sagan Rentier, domiciled at No. 11 Rue Sedillot, eldest son of Charles-Guillaume-Frederick-Boson-de Talleyrand-Perigord, Duc De Sagan and Talleyrand without profession, and Anne Alexandrine Selliere, deceased, and Anna Gould, without profession, domiciled at Number 116 Avenue Malakoff, daughter of Jay Gould and Helen Miller, deceased, divorced from Marie-Paul-Boniface, Count De Castellane, of which acknowledgment has been drawn up, is posted this day on the doors of the mayor's office."

The document gives the age of Madame Gould as 33 and Prince De Sagan as forty-nine. The exact place and the date of the wedding have not yet been disclosed but it will be celebrated within a fortnight and very quietly only a few friends and relatives, including George Gould, being present. It will not be in France. The religious ceremony will be according to the Protestant religion. Prince Heli has not renounced his Catholic faith. Count Boni de Castellane has not yet made any legal move.

This great success is not surprising when it is remembered that, in eczema cases, poslam stops the itching with first application, proceeds to heal immediately, and cures chronic cases in a few weeks. In minor skin troubles, such as pimples, blackheads, acne, herpes, blotches, rash, etc., results show after an overnight application. Experimental samples of poslam are sent to anyone by mail free of charge by The Emergency Laboratories, 22 West Twenty-fifth street, New York City.

THE INJUNCTION PLANK

AS USUAL THE REPUBLICANS SMOOTHED OVER THEIR ANTE CONVENTION BICKERINGS AND DID THE THINGS BEST CALCULATED TO SECURE VICTORY AT THE POLLS.

THE PLATFORM HAS NOTHING VERY RADICAL, AND EVEN IF IT HAD, THE FACT THAT IT IS FRAMED FOR ELECTION PURPOSES ONLY WOULD DISCOUNT SUCH A FEATURE.

THE INJUNCTION PLANK WAS INTRODUCED AT THE INSTIGATION OF THE ROOSEVELT RADICALS, BUT IT IS FRAMED IN SUCH MILD LANGUAGE THAT IT MAY BE SET DOWN AS MEANING NOTHING IN PARTICULAR.

IT IS AS FOLLOWS:

"We believe, however, the rules of procedure in the federal courts with respect to issuance of the writ of injunction should be more accurately defined by statute, and that no injunction or temporary restraining order should be issued without notice, except irreparable injury would result from delay, in which case a speedy hearing thereafter should be granted."

THAT IS A TAME AFFAIR COMPARED TO THE PLANK AS ORIGINALLY PROPOSED COMING FROM THE ROOSEVELT PUBLICITY BUREAU. IN A PLATFORM PUT OUT FOR ELECTIONEERING PURPOSES A PLANK OF THAT KIND WILL SOON BE FORGOTTEN AFTER ELECTION.

LODGE ON PANICS

SENATOR LODGE BOASTED AS USUAL OF WHAT THE REPUBLICAN PARTY DID IN DEFENCE OF THE GOLD STANDARD, BUT HE DID NOT EXPLAIN HOW THE SHERMAN SILVER LAW WAS FORCED UPON THE COUNTRY BY A REPUBLICAN CONGRESS IN 1890. NOR DID HE REMIND HIS AUDIENCE THAT THIS SILVER LAW WAS PUT THROUGH AS A MEANS OF CARRYING THE McKINLEY TARIFF BILL THAT AFTERWARDS PROVED TO BE THE MOTHER OF TRUSTS.

IT WAS THE SHERMAN SILVER LAW THAT BROUGHT ON THE FINANCIAL CRISIS OF 1893 AND IT WAS A DEMOCRATIC PRESIDENT WHO CALLED A SPECIAL SESSION OF CONGRESS TO REPEAL THAT PERNICIOUS LAW AND END THE PANIC. YET LODGE DESIGNATED THE PANIC OF 1893 A DEMOCRATIC PANIC. IT WAS NO MORE OF A DEMOCRATIC PANIC THAN WAS THE PANIC OF 1907 WITH ROOSEVELT ON THE THRONE.

THE SEWERAGE PROBLEM

THE FIRST RAY OF LIGHT ON THE SEWERAGE PROBLEMS OF THE ANNEXED DISTRICT COMES FROM THE STATE BOARD OF HEALTH AND IS SUFFICIENTLY CLEAR TO INDICATE TO ANY INTELLIGENT MIND THAT THE PROBLEMS OF THE ANNEXED DISTRICT COMES FROM THE STATE BOARD OF HEALTH AND IS SUFFICIENTLY CLEAR TO INDICATE TO ANY INTELLIGENT MIND THAT THE PROBLEMS THERE ARE NOT AS DIFFICULT AS THEY HAVE BEEN REPRESENTED, ALTHOUGH DIFFICULT ENOUGH TO REQUIRE CAREFUL STUDY, CAUTION AND JUDICIOUS ACTION. WE HAD SUPPOSED THAT THE SEWERAGE OF WIGGINVILLE AND SOUTH LOWELL MIGHT HAVE BEEN CONNECTED WITH THAT OF THE OAKLAND DISTRICT, BUT THIS PHASE OF THE CASE WAS NOT SUBMITTED TO THE STATE BOARD FOR CONSIDERATION. SO FAR AS THE STATE BOARD KNOWS THERE IS NO SUCH PROBLEM. HAD THE LARGER PROBLEM OF DRAINING THE ENTIRE DISTRICT BEEN SUBMITTED TO THE STATE BOARD NO DOUBT THE ANSWER MIGHT HAVE BEEN DIFFERENT AND THE CITY MIGHT HAVE DERIVED SOME ADVANTAGE FROM THE INFORMATION THUS OBTAINED.

SCHOOL BOARD GRAFT

IT IS NOW REPORTED THAT THE COMMITTEE ON BOOKS AND SUPPLIES OF THE SCHOOL BOARD HOPES TO WIN OVER MR. GOWARD IN FAVOR OF INTRODUCING THE "HARMONIC" SYSTEM OF MUSIC IN THE SCHOOLS. AT A TIME WHEN IT IS ANNOUNCED THAT THE TAX RATE WILL BE MUCH HIGHER THE CITIZENS OF LOWELL WILL NOT BE IN ANY MOOD TO SIT IDLY BY AND WATCH THE SCHOOL BOARD CARRYING OUT A GAME OF GRAFT FOR THE BENEFIT OF A BOOK PUBLISHING CONCERN TO COST THE CITY EVENTUALLY FROM $10,000 TO $20,000.

THE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION SNATCHED UP SHERMAN OF NEW YORK FOR VICE-PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE AS IF HE WERE LIABLE TO GET AWAY FROM THEM. SHERMAN IS REGARDED AS A HARMONIZER FOR NEW YORK BUT IT REMAINS TO BE SEEN WHETHER HE WILL BE ABLE TO GET ALL THE HUGHES MEN IN LINE.

SEEN AND HEARD

Miss Violet Grunewald, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Grunewald, Jr., of Westford street, is one of the proudest and happiest little girls in Lowell. On Sunday last she received her first communion at St. Patrick's church and on Monday was confirmed by Archbishop O'Connell and at the services she carried with her a solid gold rosary, the gift of her grandfather, Louis Grunewald, Sr., of New Orleans, and a beautiful carved ivory prayer book, the gift of her grandmother. The beautiful gifts arrived just in time for the services, and none was happier than Miss Grunewald. Mr. and Mrs. Grunewald, Sr., are among the leading Catholic families of the south and their golden wedding in New Orleans, at which they were remarried at a pontifical high mass was one of the most imposing religious affairs of its kind witnessed in the Louisiana metropolis in a long time.

If you are ever travelling by the city and well kept farm house of Patrick Coger in Polkton, N. H., you will notice beside the pump in front of his house, at which all travellers stop to quench their thirst, a most novel wash basin used by the farm help. It is of solid rock scooped out so as to make a perfect wash basin. Mr. Coger has been offered good money for the rock but he has refused all offers. One theory of the origin of the basin is that the Indians in days gone by used it to pound corn which making meal and the pounding of years resulted in the peculiar formation. Another theory is that originally the rock stood under a pump or spring and that the constant dripping of the water wore it away. The rock was there before Mr. Coger and he has been there a life time. You may wash in it if you desire but you can't buy it.

One has but to ride a few miles in the country to appreciate the extent of the damage done by the brown-tail moth to the trees along the road. Tree after tree appears without a leaf on it while a host of brown-tail moth nests explain the destruction.

SOLITUDE

The solitude of hills, or of the sea, The solitude of dense far-reaching woods, Have naught in them of loneliness for me, Who love the songs of elemental moods.

But in the city streets, where myriad feet Pass here and you in hurried onward press, 'Tis there I find a wilderness complete And taste the woes of utter loneliness.

—John Kendrick Bangs in July Metropolitan Magazine.

Abram Gotsky returned to his farm house near Troy Hills, N. J., yesterday afternoon. The doctor met him at the door.

"Four," said the doctor.

"No," replied Gotsky, "it's only half-past 3."

"Four fine boys this time," said the doctor, breaking it gently.

"Merciful gracious," cried the farmer, and dropped into a chair.

It was true. Mrs. Gotsky had presented her husband with four tokens of her affection. The four boys weighed altogether 16 pounds, four ounces, and are perfectly formed and are doing well.

The attention of President Roosevelt is respectfully called to Mrs. Gotsky, who does not know what race suicide is.

The attention of the trustees of the Andrew Carnegie "hero fund" is called, with equal respect, to Mr. Gotsky. They have 20 children in 15 years, as per time-table below. Fourteen survive.

The Gotskys married April 5, 1892. Twins blessed them March 22, 1893. Only one born in 1894.

Twins in 1895. Triplets in 1896. Twins in 1897. Twins in 1898. Twins in 1899. One in 1900. One in 1901. Twins in 1902.

Twins in 1903. One in 1904. One in 1905. One in 1906. One in 1907. One in 1908.

It has been stated, and on good authority, that the man who laughs at his own jokes is a confirmed idiot.

Dave Kimball, at Kimball's corner in Tyngsboro, has a little banty hen that is the mother of 15 chicks and she stole her nest at that. It was a case of 15 out of a possible 15 as that was the number of eggs found in the nest in the hay mow where she had secreted her self. While she succeeded in covering the 15 eggs she is not large enough to cover the 15 chickens and some of them coddle in the feathers on her back. Dave is glad she didn't hatch out the 15th egg. There's luck in odd numbers, he says.

Ezra S. Allen, brother of the famous aviator, James Allen of Providence, R. I., with whom several Lowell people have made ascensions, was in Lowell, yesterday. Ezra Allen has made more than 100 ascensions and his brother, James has made about 50. They have a new balloon that has not been tried out yet. The balloon holds 5,000 feet of gas.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

MR. TAFT NOMINATED. Boston Herald: The expected happened at Chicago yesterday. Secretary Taft was nominated as the republican candidate for president, completing the program of the convention work to date.

Conflicting elements were brought together in harmony upon platform and candidates and the republican party is apparently united as usual. Mr. Taft, in ability, integrity and in every phase of his character, measures up to the high standard of American presidents. He has been tried in responsible places and at no time has been found wanting. He holds, as he deserves to hold, the confidence of the American people. There is no opportunity to challenge his past performance or to doubt the success of any future performance that may be required of him.

EARLY CROP REPORTS.

New Bedford Mercury: The bureau of statistics in the department of agriculture is planning to issue throughout the summer its crop reports from one to two days earlier than the time at which they appeared last year. The reports will relate to the same dates as last year, but they will be issued earlier through improvements rendering possible more speedy work. This will bring out the grain reports relating to conditions of the first of the month, usually on the eighth of each month, while cotton reports, which relate to conditions on the twenty-fifth of the preceding month, will usually be brought out on the first instead of on the third.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

A judge of the District of Columbia supreme court has characterized certain conduct of Jimmie Garfield as "unconstitutional, null and void," and has ordered the writ of mandamus to issue directing the secretary of the interior to rescind one of his orders. Unhappily, the platform had been adopted when this intimation of the executive prerogative became known. Otherwise a plank restricting the right of the court to mandamus would undoubtedly have been included in the declaration of party principles.

W. J. Chalmers of Chicago, who did considerable touring in Europe this spring with his wife and family, advises Americans to join the Royal Automobile club of Great Britain or the Touring club of France if they intend to do any European touring. He drove his Packard from Naples through different parts of Italy, crossing the mountains to Geneva, Switzerland, and from there to France and Germany. Mr. Chalmers said he lost less than four hours because of the trouble on his whole trip, this occurring at Tours, where trucks had been thrown into a street, which required the replacement of two tubes and two casings. After being compelled by customs officers to put up deposits at the Italian French and Austrian frontiers, Mr. Chalmers joined the Touring club of France and secured a card that permitted him to enter Germany five times without being stopped at the frontier to make deposits each time.

It has been rumored for several days that the Earl of Crawford has sold his handsome auxiliary ship rigged yacht Valhalla to an American yachtman and that the Valhalla will shortly come to these waters. The Earl of Crawford, who has cruised many thousands of miles in this yacht, has wanted to sell her for some time and to build a new one. He purchased the Valhalla from Major Laycock in 1901 and took part in the race across the ocean for the German emperor's prize, finishing third. She made the passage under sail in 14 days 2 hours and 31 minutes. The Valhalla came here in 1895 and followed the yachts as they raced for the America's cup and Lord Dunraven, who was the challenger that year, returned home in the visitor. The Valhalla was built by Ramage & Ferguson in 1892. She was designed and rigged after the model of a six-masted ship of those days. Below deck she had a ward room, gun room and an armory similar to naval boats. Her owner, who was interested in the power of London, used to take boys on long cruises to teach them seamanship and navigation. The Valhalla has been all over the world and is a most attractive vessel when under sail and a very able ship in every way.

LAWRENCE WOMAN

KNOCKED DOWN AND INJURED BY AUTOMOBILE.

LAWRENCE, June 20.—Mrs. Flora Wilcox, of 2 Highland place, Methuen, was knocked down and ran over on Essex, near Amesbury street, last night by an automobile, owned and driven by Charles S. Mayo, agent of the Merrimack paper mill.

One of the wheels passed over her legs, but examination showed no broken bones. She suffered from shock. She was taken to her home.

The accident was caused by the bursting of a tire, the car skidding on to the sidewalk. William H. McNamee, who was in the car with Mr. Mayo, jumped and was badly bruised. Mr. Mayo regained control of the car and escaped injury.

O, may we in the days to come, Through years of weal or woe, Look onward to the heavenly goal—Our Father's blissful abode! When all life's lessons have been learned, And life's hard tasks are done, May each one hear a loving voice— "Thy well, O faithful one!" Accompanied, Irene Wardell.

Ernest E. Bailey's bird made it in 8 hours, 25 minutes, 1500 yards a minute. This is the second time the Messrs. Bailey birds have accomplished this race in the same day, as there are very few birds that can make 500 miles in a day. These two birds have flown 1700 miles since May 1, 1908.

FOR CHAIRMAN OFFICERS SHOT SEWER SYSTEM

BY STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

Streets Near River Must Be Raised

IN ORDER TO SECURE PROPER DRAINAGE

No Calculation as to Cost on Any Proposition

And now it is the Worthen street sewer that is labeled "unit and inadequate." The committee on sewers met last night and the Worthen street sewer question was gone into to some extent.

Mr. Humphrey O'Sullivan was present and he told the committee that the sewer was entirely inadequate. Speaking for the Merrimack Clothing Co. he said that because of the inferiority of the sewer it was impossible to keep merchandise in the basement of the building.

Engineer Bowers was looked to as the one to supply or suggest a remedy. He thought that the Dutton street sewer might be lowered but he said it would be impossible to lower the Worthen street sewer. He thought that the lowering of the Dutton street sewer would fix matters all right.

The following important communication from the state board of health relative to the drainage of Wiggville and South Lowell was read:

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

Office of the State Board of Health, State House, Boston, June 15, 1908.

To Mr. George Bowers, City Engineer, Lowell, Massachusetts.

Sir:—The State Board of Health received from you on May 8, 1908, the following communication relative to the sewerage of the city of Lowell:

"At a meeting of the committee on sewers of the city of Lowell, held Friday, May 1, it was voted to instruct the city engineer to ask advice of the State Board of Health in regard to the proper method of drainage for that part of Lowell known as Wiggville and South Lowell. This is the same part of Lowell which has petitioned the State Board of Health in former years."

Subsequently, on May 27th, in response to a request for an outline of your proposed plans, a plan was submitted showing the districts of Wiggville and South Lowell, and certain elevations of the ground, and of the Concord river and a tributary brook in this section of Lowell. In your communication was received, giving an outline of your proposed plans of sewerage and sewage disposal for these districts as follows:

"In explanation of the plan sent you showing the Oaklands, Wiggville and South Lowell, would say that there are three different propositions for the disposal of the sewage of Wiggville and South Lowell:

1st. Allow the sewage to enter the Concord river in two or more places; one, northerly of the Lowell & Andover R.R., where it crosses Lawrence street; another, near the intersection of Acton and Billerica streets, not far from the brook that now drains that section.

2nd. Collect all the sewage of Wiggville, carry it down Lawrence street to the Boston & Maine R.R. crossing; thence, beside the Concord river on land belonging to the Lowell & Andover R.R., and empty it into the sewer already laid in Rogers street.

3rd. Collect all the sewage and carry it by a main sewer southerly under the Boston & Maine tracks to land owned by the U. S. Cartridge Co., which is the most southerly land in the city of Lowell.

The drainage area of Wiggville lying between the Lowell & Lawrence streets and the Lowell & Andover main track is about 121 acres.

The drainage area of South Lowell in the city of Lowell is about 285 acres. In Wiggville and South Lowell there are now about 285 dwelling houses.

Work has already been commenced on some of the sewers in Wiggville, and an early solution of the manner of disposal of sewage is very earnestly desired.

You have also submitted to the board a profile showing the approximate line for a proposed main sewer for the drainage of these districts, extending from the neighborhood of the outlet of the brook near Bolton street to a connection with the Rogers street sewer near the easterly bank of the Concord river, and a profile of a sewer in the valley of the brook discharging into the Concord river opposite Bolton street.

Beyond the information furnished by the plan and profile presented, it does not appear that further information is available as to the topography and elevation of these districts, though the construction of sewers and drains has already been begun there by the city government. It is understood that the separate system of sewerage is to be adopted and followed in providing sewerage in these districts.

The board has caused the locality to be examined by its engineer and has examined the plan and information presented therewith.

The elevation of the greater part of the land in the districts under consideration is such that sewerage can be provided without difficulty and the sewers can be laid at satisfactory elevations and gradient but the plan shows that a part of the districts, including the Concord river, in which several dwelling houses have already been constructed, has a very low level with respect to the river, and an examination shows that much of the area is poorly drained and subject to flooding at times of high water in the river. It is impracticable to provide efficient drainage for these districts under the conditions that now exist there;

and furthermore, if sewers should be built in Billerica street and portions of adjacent streets, and in certain streets in the valley of the brook entering the river opposite Bolton street shown upon the plan, they would necessarily be laid below the level of the ground waters. Under these conditions it would be very difficult, if not impracticable, to prevent the leakage of a great quantity of water into the sewers, greatly increasing the cost of collection and proper disposal of the sewage, besides perhaps interfering with the efficient operation of the sewers and rendering the city liable for other considerable expenses.

Considering the circumstances, the board would recommend that, before a sewer system is constructed in this district, the streets be raised sufficiently high to make it practicable to drain the territory properly. The main sewer should be laid in a grade in general above that of the streets in order to prevent the water falling upon it shall flow into the street gutters and the danger of the formation of pools of water which will cause malaria be prevented. The elevation of the bottom of cellars should be fixed by ordinance at heights which will make them capable of proper drainage.

A thorough study should also be made of the best plan of removing the storm water from the district, utilizing the existing water courses, and provision should be made for securing control of such of them as may be necessary for the purpose at the earliest opportunity. Careful estimates should then be made of the cost of constructing sewers for this district, and definite plans of sewerage and sewage disposal prepared.

When you have made further investigations and prepared the necessary plans, the board will give you further advice as to the sewerage and drainage of these districts. If you so request, we will be glad to see the plans.

RECENT PAINTINGS BY AMERICAN WOMEN

"LA LECTURE"—BY MISS CASSATT.

"LA LECON DE LECTURE"—BY MISS CASSATT.

ISN'T it possible that the great American novelist, the great American poet, the great American sculptor or the great American artist may be a woman? Although comparatively novices in these lines, already women have done wonders. With a larger experience and larger culture how much more will be possible! At the recent salon in Paris the number of women who had pictures on the walls was larger than ever before, and critics say that the quality of the work was finer than could have been expected. Of course the French view of art differs somewhat from ours. Shapely nymphs and gorgeous bowers that are the favorite "genre" of our millionaire art connoisseurs are taboo with the French critic, who prefers a touch of vagueness, of mysticism, in his paintings. An American woman, who has succeeded in catching just the elusive atmosphere that is dear to the Parisian art lover and who has, besides, a solid basis of technical skill on which to build her superstructure of art is Miss Mary Cassatt. She is the sister of the late A. J. Cassatt, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, and her canvases are no mere hasty pot-boilers, but represent the best efforts of a skillful craftsman, a mature, cultivated mind and a single, idealistic imagination. Two of Miss Cassatt's recent paintings are reproduced on this page, and when it is stated that she is a native of Pittsburgh, the home of iron, steel and coal, whence are supposed to come no good things in art or literature, the unsophisticated will have more occasion for surprise. Miss Cassatt comes of Scotch-Irish stock, as do Mrs. Margaret Deland, the novelist, and Miss Agnes Irwin, the president of Radcliffe college, who are all Pittsburghers by birth and whose families belonged to the same circle of substantial, well bred folk who built the commercial foundation upon which rises the present greatness of Pittsburgh—people who had nothing in common with the new multimillionaires that newspapers exploit to the discredit of a city which cares not less for intellectual achievement than any other in the Union. Miss Cassatt first took up art at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts in Philadelphia. In 1875 she went to Europe to study. She lived in Spain for some time and studied in Italy and Holland. Finally she settled down to serious work in Paris, where she acknowledged that her work was influenced by Manet and Degas. She painted assiduously and gradually was accorded recognition. French critics compare her style to that of Pissarro, Chavanne, and so appreciative are they that she is the only woman whose work has been given a place in the "cabinet" collection of the Louvre with that of other artists of the impressionist school. As a further mark of their esteem she was in 1905, on the recommendation of M. Delcasse, foreign minister of France, decorated with the cross of the Legion of Honor.

Miss Cassatt has received notable prizes from the Pan-American exposition and the St. Louis world's fair. She won the Walter Lippincott prize, which carries with it a cash gift of $300. Besides these, many honors have come to her. She is not only a worker in oils, but uses pastel as well, and is considered one of the foremost etchers of the day. Her paintings sell readily and are worth from $2,000 up. She has not been in America for a number of years. Her home at the present time is at 10 Rue de Marignan, Paris.

Philadelphia, New York and Chicago have the largest art schools in the country, but the Quaker City seems to be a favorite place of residence for the successful woman artist. There is an air of tranquillity and repose about its picturesque suburbs which is extremely soothing to tired nerves. Elizabeth Shippen Green, Jessie Wilcox Smith, Violet Oakley, Blanche Dillaye and many other famous women artists make their home in or about the Quaker City. Miss Dillaye, one of the finest water color painters in the world, is a native of Syracuse, N. Y. Few women paint really meritorious landscapes, and in this line she has received flattering appreciation at home and abroad. Much of her time is spent in Paris, where she has a studio at 53 Rue Notre Dame des Champs. She has exhibits at the salon and at the English exhibitions. A specialist in etching as well as water colors, she has received many medals and awards for her paintings and etchings. She is the president of the Plastic club, a member of the Fellowship club of Philadelphia, of the New York Water Color club, Women's Art club, American Women's Art association of Paris and many other organizations. Her Philadelphia studio is at 10 South Eighth street. She recently purchased a winter home at Coconut Grove, in Dade county, Fla., where the beauty of the landscape particularly appeals to one with her sensitive eye for color.

Among her best known paintings are "The Fountain," "The House on the Hill," shown at the Paris salon and now in the possession of Judge Vann of Syracuse; "The Hunter's Moon," "French Poplars at Sunset," "Light in the Valley," etc.

It is noticeable that women artists specializing more and more. There are miniature specialists, water color specialists, etchers, portrait, marine and landscape artists, with many subdivisions and classes.

Illustrating helps to supplement many meager incomes and in others is the vocation of the artist. Mrs. Louise Cox, wife of Kenyon Cox, paints portraits and religious subjects. Dora Wheeler Keith, daughter of Mrs. Candace Wheeler, devotes her time to portraits. In fact, a glance at the pictures upon the walls at the exhibitions of the National Academy of Design or the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts will give an idea of the various lines that the woman artist prefers to follow. Some of them, like Miss Cassatt, delineate domestic scenes; others paint children or flowers. Each has a line which she follows with more or less devotion to the ideal.

Of course most of the American exhibitions are open to women. Abroad some of them are not. At least women exhibitors often find their work badly hung even when it has a fair measure of merit. But in Paris the public is more generous to the fair sex, not from any sense of chivalry, perhaps, but because America sends every year about a thousand girl students to study in the French ateliers, and it would be a piece of unbecoming thriftlessness for the French to discourage this profitable invasion which contributes to the enrichment of art schools and tradesmen of all classes, for many of these women come from wealthy homes and have ample means at their disposal. Many women artists of prominence have studios in Paris, for, like their male colleagues, they have learned that they can do better work in Paris than elsewhere because of its art atmosphere. There are, of course, the famous galleries, with their hints from the masters, and the great ones of the world of art may all be met at some time or other in the French capital, while most of them have studios there. Miss Cassatt, Miss Elizabeth Neutra, Miss Elizabeth Gardner Bouguereau, Miss Marie Cronin, Miss Esther Hunt, Miss Ellen Stuart, Miss Catherine Watkins, Mrs. Mary MacMonnies, Miss Blanche Dillaye, Miss Anne Klenke and many others spend all or part of their time in France. Miss Cecile Beaux, although her address is Gloucester, Mass., is often to be found in the alluring French capital, where her canvases are admired greatly. She was a pupil at the Julian and Lazar schools. Miss Beaux is one of the most distinguished of American women painters, having won gold medals at many exhibitions.

Most of the women who have achieved notable success in art have received some or all of their training abroad. Excellent as are the American art schools, there is apparently a finish that they cannot yet give. Of course foreign study is expensive. It cannot be managed comfortably on less than a thousand a year, although it may cost more and has cost even less. The temptations and trials of the girl art student in Paris are no greater than in any other strange city provided the girl speaks French fluently and is provided with independent means. The women at the top of the profession have seen to it that many helpful clubs are provided for the novice, and unless a girl prefers the gaiety of the Quarter Latin there is no reason why she should be less conventional than at home. The American Girls' club in Paris is one of the places in which the girl art student may be comfortable and surrounded by refined influences at a small cost. Its accommodations cost from 25 to 30 francs a week. In France $25 will buy about as much as $40 in America. Mrs. Whitelaw Reid is the president of this club. The Students' Hostel, the gift of Mrs. Whitney Hoff, is a woman's hotel on a small scale. Holy Trinity Lodge is another abiding place for the girl student. It is under the direction of Holy Trinity church, Paris. Altogether the outlook for women artists who seek to perfect themselves abroad is encouraging, and as more women turn to art each year there is no doubt that larger opportunities will be opened to them.

FROM PALACE TO HOTEL.

Achilleon, the beautiful palace built for the late Empress Elizabeth of Austria at a cost of $5,000,000, has been converted by a syndicate, which will convert it into a hotel and sanatorium. The palace, which is of pure white marble, was designed by the Italian architect Signor Carito. It contains 128 rooms and a chapel, situated in fine grounds, planted with 25,000 rare rose trees. In 1932, when the empress left her palace for the last time, it is said that she burst into tears and said to one of the ladies of her suite, "Something in my heart tells me that I shall never return here again." She was murdered at Geneva soon after.

Not to Develop Your Talent Is a Crime

JUST a word about using towels in hotel or restaurant dressing rooms. Only recently I heard of a most pathetic case. A young woman wiped her hand on a towel which had been used once before. She then rubbed her eyes, and as an almost immediate result she contracted an eye disease which today, at the age of twenty-seven, leaves her blind for life.

You can't be too careful, especially now, that the summer is here, when disease germs are more than usually active.

To leave an unpleasant subject, there is no excuse for a woman who lives in unbecoming surroundings. Even the most forlorn back yard may be transformed by the use of a little grass seed and patience. Stains and plain carriage paper are cheap, while I have seen dining upholstered rooms I preferred infinitely to Louis XV. brocade "parlors." One of the most attractive dining rooms I have seen was furnished at a cost of $15.

The walls were hung with green carriage paper. The floor was covered with green matting, and the furniture, which was home made, was stained the same soft tone of green.

If you have a window which looks out on a roof or some one else's unpleasant back yard, why don't you cover it with stained glass paper and hang side curtains of figured net in the same shades?

The effect is perfectly stunning. Remember this—whether we realize it or not, we are tremendously influenced by our surroundings.

Now that warm weather is here hark to words of wisdom!

Simplify your housekeeping and avoid nervous prostration.

I'll away your heavy rugs and substitute grass matting. Take down the heavy pictures and put up prints if you object to the plain walls. Look over your dressing table and remove all superfluous articles. Take away also the elaborate frilled cover and leave the surface bare or else cover it with a towel.

Go through your closet and remove all the winter things, even to shoes and wrappers. Only keep what is absolutely necessary and get along with as little as possible.

Do the same thing in the dining room and in the kitchen. Adopt an entirely different mode of life from that of the winter, including simpler cooking and simpler table arrangements.

That is the way to spare yourself and lengthen your life and to save your complexion.

If a girl has a talent, she should be taught that it is a crime not to develop it.

Most women fritter their lives away

A POPULAR SWEDISH STORY WRITER.

Selma Lagerlof is the greatest woman writer in Sweden, and Mrs. Velma Swanson Howard of New York, well known as a translator of Ibsen and herself a Swedish woman by birth, has made a charming translation of Miss Lagerlof's beautiful story, "The Wonderful Adventure of Nils," a fairy allegory that is said to rank with Hans Christian Andersen's stories as a classic for children.

doing a little of this and a bit of that, all without any object. It isn't the things that they do, but the things that they do well, which count.

The rewards of concentration are so many that I won't waste time enumerating them. The woman who recognizes her best talent and bends all her energies toward cultivating it is the one who wins everything in this world, including happiness.

And this does not apply only to those women who have "careers." Your best gift may be homemaking, for instance —and, by the way, homemaking is a real talent which you can study and improve on like anything else. Well, if this is the case, what a goose you are to be drawn away from it by something you cannot do anywhere near as well!

I have come to the conclusion that happiness consists in sticking to and in cultivating to its highest degree the one thing you can do best of all others. That one thing if well done will bring you all the rest.

Perseverance is one of the homely virtues that is often ignored when we are young.

The mother who allows her child to begin one thing, lay it aside and start another, only to put that by in its turn for something else, is doing that little one almost as great an injury as if she cut off one of its arms.

Because the habit of casting away work the very minute it becomes hard or wearisome is a fatal one that clings to us all through life, choking like a bed of weeds all our newborn efforts.

It is as deadly a preventive of an old rose linen dress, success as the morphia habit. There is only one other mental attitude that can compare with it, and that is the tendency to put off things till tomorrow.

How completely parents hold their children's lives in their hands when they are young! They can make them anything they want or by a little carelessness prevent them from ever reaching the heights for which they were born.

Less kissing and hugging and more realization is what a good many mothers need.

If a wife can learn to cut out crying, she will add immensely to the respect in which her husband holds her.

You don't gain a thing by crying, my dear woman, and you look as homely as the dickens.

There are far more effective and dignified ways of showing grief. In fact, the greatest grief of all are those which are too deep for tears. But if you must weep, weep. I bet of you, when you are alone.

Men have instinctively woman's tears and he gets so after awhile that he hates her for shedding them.

Perhaps you have trouble with your maid. She complains that the work is too heavy in warm weather. Well, my dear madam, look at your laundry list. Why wear white petticoats, for instance, when a pongee one looks just as pretty and will go with all your light dresses?

If you wear white shirt waists and white skirts, pray consider what this means—three pieces soiled every time you go downtown. There are your waist, your skirt and your petticoat, not to speak of the wash belt you probably wear.

Of course you can't be dressed in white unless it is immaculate. That's why I say don't wear it. There are other things just as pretty and much easier on the maid.

For instance, what is the matter with an old rose linen dress worn with black gloves, a black hat and the serviceable pongee petticoat?

By the way, while we are on the subject of dress let me mention that the pump which has heretofore reigned supreme among shoes has given way at last to the tie.

All the smartly gowned women are wearing high cut ties or even summer weight boots.

Black shoes are smart only in suede or patent leather. Speaking of suede, it now comes in all shades, even in Copenhagen blue, to match the different gowns.

I do so pity the poor rich these days. Most of them are trying to make money. Bridge seems the easiest way, and the other day I saw a touching scene on the piazza of a country club not a hundred miles from New York.

One of our most prominent social climbers handed over a huge roll of bills to a young matron of the Four Hundred, who coolly pocketed the same, with the airy remark: "So sorry. Maybe you'll have better luck next time."

Well, it wasn't a dead loss to the social climber anyway.

Quite the most original woman of the smart set, however, is Mrs. —. Well, perhaps, I had better be discreet. She lives in New York's most select mid-season resort. Her fortune has shrunk to a solitary paltry million, and naturally she is afraid of the poorhouse. So she has taken to raising dogs. She never goes out walking accompanied by less than twenty-five of them. First come the collies, then the bull pups, and last in the procession toddle the toy Pomeranians.

You can hear her coming a mile off on account of the yawning, howling, snarling and snuffling of her four footed escorts.

She dresses like a man—in a sweater, a soft felt and the most abbreviated of kilts, covered with dog hairs.

Her estate is given over to canines. They overrun the stables; they roll in the garden; they even frisk in the parlor. The only thing they don't do is to climb the trees.

She has grown so enthusiastically over her new business that it is a case of "I've met love my dog." If you don't you needn't call, and indeed you wouldn't want to. There isn't a foot of space without a pup in it, and if you are not able to talk dog there is no conversation at all.

See the awful results of the panic!

Many women artists of prominence have studios in Paris, for, like their male colleagues, they have learned that the rich American would rather buy a poor painting at a high price in Paris than a fine one at a low price in their own country. Some artists claim that they can do better work in Paris than elsewhere because of its art atmosphere. There are, of course, the famous galleries, with their hints from the masters, and the great ones of the world of art may all be met at some time or other in the French capital, while most of them have studios there. Miss Cassatt, Miss Elizabeth Neutra, Miss Elizabeth Gardner Bouguereau, Miss Marie Cronin, Miss Esther Hunt, Miss Ellen Stuart, Miss Catherine Watkins, Mrs. Mary MacMonnies, Miss Blanche Dillaye, Miss Anne Klenke and many others spend all or part of their time in France. Miss Cecile Beaux, although her address is Gloucester, Mass., is often to be found in the alluring French capital, where her canvases are admired greatly. She was a pupil at the Julian and Lazar schools. Miss Beaux is one of the most distinguished of American women painters, having won gold medals at many exhibitions.

Most of the women who have achieved notable success in art have received some or all of their training abroad. Excellent as are the American art schools, there is apparently a finish that they cannot yet give. Of course foreign study is expensive. It cannot be managed comfortably on less than a thousand a year, although it may cost more and has cost even less. The temptations and trials of the girl art student in Paris are no greater than in any other strange city provided the girl speaks French fluently and is provided with independent means. The women at the top of the profession have seen to it that many helpful clubs are provided for the novice, and unless a girl prefers the gaiety of the Quarter Latin there is no reason why she should be less conventional than at home. The American Girls' club in Paris is one of the places in which the girl art student may be comfortable and surrounded by refined influences at a small cost. Its accommodations cost from 25 to 30 francs a week. In France $25 will buy about as much as $40 in America. Mrs. Whitelaw Reid is the president of this club. The Students' Hostel, the gift of Mrs. Whitney Hoff, is a woman's hotel on a small scale. Holy Trinity Lodge is another abiding place for the girl student. It is under the direction of Holy Trinity church, Paris. Altogether the outlook for women artists who seek to perfect themselves abroad is encouraging, and as more women turn to art each year there is no doubt that larger opportunities will be opened to them.

HANDSOME WIFE OF MINISTER FROM NORWAY.

The new kingdom of Norway has sent to this country one of the prettiest women Washington has seen for some time. She is Mme. Gude, wife of the new minister from that kingdom. Like King Haakon, the Norwegian king, Mme. Gude is a Dane by birth, but she speaks a number of languages besides her own and Norwegian, among them English.

MEXICO CITY, June 20.—The Yaqui war has begun in earnest and American and Mexican troops are pursuing the Indians as before the recent futile peace arrangements were arranged. In a battle which occurred in a town of Buena Vista, near Santo Nordeste, in the state of Chihuahua, four Indians were killed yesterday and several wounded. The soldiers had one man wounded. The troops were aided in their fight by the townspeople of Buena Vista.

ON THURSDAY NEXT, JUNE 25, AT 3 P. M., AT 712 GORHAM STREET, I SHALL OFFER FOR SALE ON THE PREMISES, A FOUR-TENEMENT HOUSE AND ABOUT 12,000 SQUARE FEET OF LAND.

On the premises, regardless of any condition of the weather, I shall offer for sale the above property, which is a very fine investment and one that should interest the speculator. The present income of the property will be $100 per month. The property is a four-tenement house on Gorham street, also a good frontage on Pine Hill street, and the land is a level and dry one. There is a four-tenement house fronting on Gorham street, two tenements of six rooms each, and two of five rooms each, and five years ago for a large block in the rear facing Pine Hill street, and there would then be ample yard room for the new block and the present standing one. It certainly looks to me with all the advantages that this property offers that it should interest the speculator. Location is without a doubt a great advantage to this property, as it is in such close proximity to the large number of industries in this section, to schools, churches, and but a few minutes' walk to the heart of the city. All inquiries should be made at the office of the auctioneer who is in full charge.

EXECUTRIX SALE AT PUBLIC AUCTION ON NEXT SATURDAY, JUNE 27, AT 2.30 P. M.

By virtue of a license granted to me by the probate court for the county of Middlesex, I shall offer for sale on the premises in two separate parcels:

At 2.30 P. M.

FIRST PARCEL, which is situated on the northerly side of Pleasant street, Dracut, Mass., near the corner of the corner of Pleasant street and the town hall. The lot has a large frontage on Pleasant street and has an area of twenty-five thousand seven hundred and eighty-three square feet (25,783). The lot is very level and is all fenced in; it is but a few minutes' walk from the electric cars and the fact of it being so near the town hall, churches and schools, it should certainly attract the attention of someone who would like a nice site for a country home as it is in the very center of the town and on the main line. You know well almost 25,000 square feet of land, you could build a nice little cottage and have quite a large garden.

At 3 P. M.

SECOND PARCEL is situated on the easterly side of Bridge street, Dracut, Mass., having a frontage of about 100 feet and an area of about 5,000 square feet. This is a very nice site and is a perfectly level and dry lot. It is located about one minute's walk from the end of the electric car line on Bridge street, and is right in a location where there is an excellent lot of neighbors, most all of whom own their own homes.

Terms: $10 must be paid to the purchaser as a deposit on the first parcel as soon as struck off. $50 must be paid on the second parcel as soon as struck off.

By order of ANNIE M. LEACH, Executrix of the will of Abby Leach.

NEXT SATURDAY, JUNE 27, 1908, AT 3.30 P. M., ABSOLUTE SALE OF A TWO-TENEMENT HOUSE, STABLE AND ABOUT 9400 SQ. FEET OF LAND AT 69-71 THIRD STREET, CENTRALVILLE.

On the premises I shall offer for sale to whomsoever will bid the most, this two-tenement house, stable and about 9400 square feet of land. The house consists of two tenements with six rooms with bath, kitchen, dining room, parlor, three bedrooms, and a large front porch. The house is in excellent condition and is a very nice site for a country home. The lot is very level and is all fenced in; it is but a few minutes' walk from the electric cars and the fact of it being so near the town hall, churches and schools, it should certainly attract the attention of someone who would like a nice site for a country home as it is in the very center of the town and on the main line. THE YALE CREW SEVEN DEATHS

Men Who Will Race Due to Heat in Chicago Yesterday

GALES FERRY, Conn., June 20.—The active work of the Yale and Harvard crews will probably end tonight and the days of next week will be devoted to rest with just enough rowing exercises to keep the men in pink condition. Critical observers of the work of both crews say that there is little to choose between the rowing and the condition of the rival "varsity" eights and the outcome of the race would appear to rest with the coaches in keeping their men from "going stale" in condition between now and Thursday. In the four miles practice row Harvard has done a little better than Yale, but allowances made for differing conditions of tide, wind and currents which latter are peculiar in the river, puts the eights almost on par. Probably in no previous years of rowing when tidal conditions were right for a practice row, and in consequence Yale had much less rowing than usual and the crew's longer stay in quarters here has brought no advantage. Harvard has not minded the rough water so much and has worked out the usual amount. Quite a few visitors to both the Yale and Harvard quarters are expected over Sunday and early next week. The official statistics of the Yale crew were given out today. They are as follows:

Yale varsity eight:
Bow, G. Ambrose, New York city, 155 lbs.; 2, J. H. Pison, Duluth, Minn., 152 lbs.; 3, W. K. Rice, New York city, 159 lbs.; 4, F. C. Hunt, New York city, 155 lbs.; 5, W. E. Douke, Pittsburgh, Pa., 155 lbs.; 6, H. A. Howe, Orange N. Y., 151 lbs.; 7, C. E. Ide, (capt.), Syracuse, N. Y., 151 lbs.; 8, D. T. Griswold, Erie, Pa., 155 lbs.; 9, J. D. Case, New York city, 150 lbs.
Four oared crew:
Bow, R. A. Waddell, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., 155 lbs.; 2, F. A. Godley, New York city, 150 lbs.; 3, D. Miller, Glen Ridge, N. J., 155 lbs.; 4, C. S. Rand, New York city, 155 lbs.; 5, W. E. WOMAN WAS DEAD

Her Companion Probably Fatally Injured

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., June 20.—How Charles Stach, 45 years of age, was probably fatally wounded and Miss Arline Knisely, 19 years of age, was killed late last night when their bodies were found in the heart of the city is a mystery which the police are working upon to solve. Early today pending the arrival of the coroner the police professed to have no definite clues to the manner of the tragedy.

Fallen forward over the dashboard of a buggy the horse walking slowly about in a circle at Fifth street and Minnich avenue four blocks from the public square the body of Miss Knisely, a bullet in her brain, was found by two men who halted the animal. A few yards distant beside the roadway Stach was discovered, gasping in pain, a bullet hole above his right eye.

"Give her shot," was his muttered remark. Stach was removed to his home where a physician worked over him for hours in an effort to restore consciousness.

The young woman's body was removed to the morgue.

According to the police Stach engaged the horse and buggy from a river stable and had taken Miss Knisely driving. From the few remarks made by the wounded man it is inferred that the couple were attacked. Persons living near the corner of the tragedy say that they heard three shots together with a woman's screams.

To add to the mystery the police found a revolver in the buggy, four chambers of which contained discharged shells.

It is believed that the couple were attacked. Persons living near the corner of the tragedy say that they heard three shots together with a woman's screams.
